ACCOLADE

WOODLAWN HIGH SCHOOL Shreveport, Louisiana

ROAD MAP OF WOODLAWN

Roads go everywhere and millions travel these roads. But no one can get any place along the highway if he does not interpret and follow the road signs found along the way.

As a student passes from one class to another, year to year, he finds that school, too, has its traveling roads. In fact, traveling the paths through Woodlawn toward an education may be likened to following a road map. Some roads are long; some short; others are straight and winding. Some paths prove exciting, yet others are disappointing. Many hold adventures and surprises.

Signposts along the highway make a safe trip possible, and the messages on those same signs will serve as guides as you travel through WHS. The way is made safer and the journey happier if you heed the advice of the signs.

Here is a map of Woodlawn's campus. Study it, concentrate upon it, and then be on your way through the ACCOLADE to see how we have used the message of these road signs to guide you as you travel through the book.

STOP, YIELD, RESUME—study the signs and follow their advice and you will arrive at the end of Woodlawn's trail with a diploma in your hand.

ABOVE: Patriotism is evident each day as Knights pause to witness the flag raising by the ROTC Color Guard.

RIGHT: Serving the community through aid to a civic project, Key Club President, Jerry Walton and Club Sweetheart Linda Dahmer helped one day in the Salvation Army kettle drive.

BELOW: Good citizenship has many facets, one of which is pride in one's school. WHS students help to keep the campus in order by heeding the advice to Keep Shreveport Clean.

Citizenship In The Making

"Good Citizenship Week at Woodlawn," proclaimed by Mayor Fant, featured a patriotic skit produced by the Student Council. Students, representing historical characters.

posed as wax figurines who came to life and made a stirring speech. Comments indicated that the program, which ended with the National Anthem, was impressive and effective.

Though fierce competitors in the sports arena, Shreveport's three high schools share a strong bond of friendship. Byrd and Fair Park sent these posters to help spark the win over Bolton in the state playoff game.

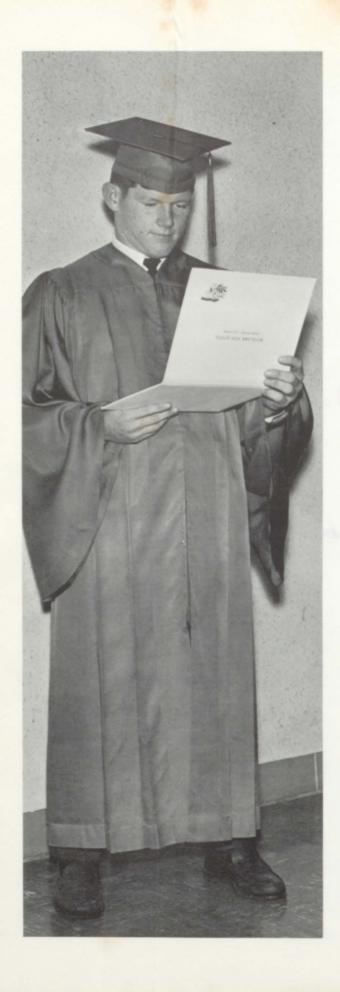

To Friendship

RIGHT: Friendships cross the seas as Foreign exchange students come to the castle to spend a year at Woodlawn. Brigitte Kuhne (in white) from Kassel, Germany, shares school memories with her new-found friends.

BELOW: "Is that right?" said Robert Don Sayers (left) as he stopped by to hear about the latest school happenings. These little chats add interest to school life.

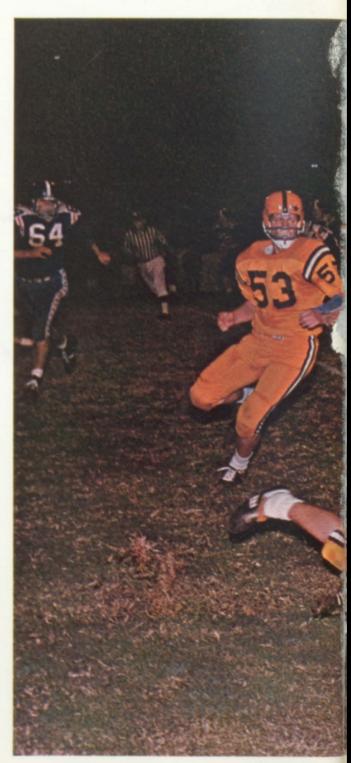

LEFT: Success to a senior means a diploma in his hand with his name engraved on it. Jerry Tanner admires his reward and remembers that he achieved it by following the rules as he traveled along the way.

BELOW: Woodlawn, one of the most successful football teams in Louisiana, was led by All-State fullback Ross Oglesby. Ross overpowered this tackler and went on to score a touchdown against the Byrd Yellow Jackets.

To Success

To Higher Learning

RIGHT: "Someday, I'll do this for real," thinks Faye Miller as she files material in Office Practice—a course which trains students thoroughly for office work.

BELOW: Preparing herself for a future job, Janette Wilkinson works as a cashier at a local dry cleaners. Janette is a first-year DE student who earns while she learns.

LEFT: College training lies ahead for Diane Arnold, who plans to attend La. Tech next year. She confers with Mrs. Randle Geisler about entrance requirements for that institution.

RIGHT: To meet requirements for a Master's Degree, Miss Yvonne Coffey assembles material for her thesis about the "History of the Woman Suffrage Movement in Louisiana."

"Merci beaucoup," comes through the earphones as French I students listen to the record "L'Arc de Triomphe." This portable language laboratory helps tremendously to give the students training in the proper sound of French words.

THRU LANE

To Knowledge

ABOVE: Staying in the proper traffic lane to achieve knowledge, Brenda Walters studied as she waited for her mother to pick her up after school.

RIGHT: A sophomore English class got a detailed lesson in grammar as Mrs. Martha Watson used the board to enumerate and emphasize the desired points.

Teachers keep abreast of school developments by attending Monday afternoon faculty meetings. Assistant Principal J. W. Cook listened attentively on this afternoon.

RIGHT: Working in the school's "seat of knowledge," student library assistants Kathie Bollinger and Brant Casford helped to keep things orderly. Gayle Wilkening used the facilities for a moment of quiet study.

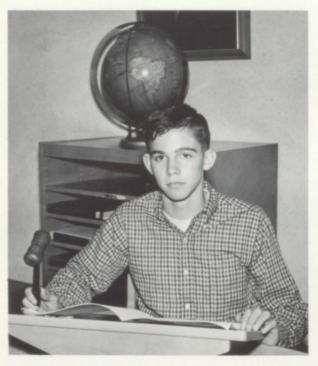

RIGHT: By helping a bookkeeping pupil find an error on his worksheet, Mrs. Brenda Tabor, a student teacher, realizes that her responsibility is a great one.

BELOW: Good training for future jobs is obtained by Safety Council officers Steve Malcolm and Bobby Foley as they make their daily check of the school's parking lots.

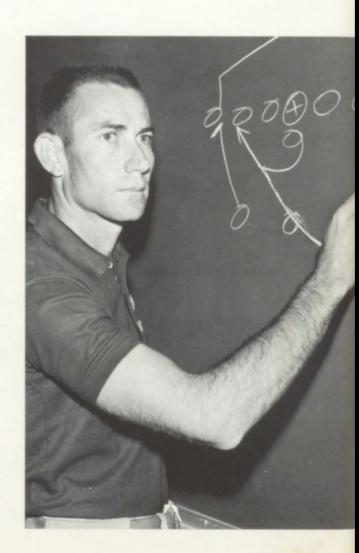

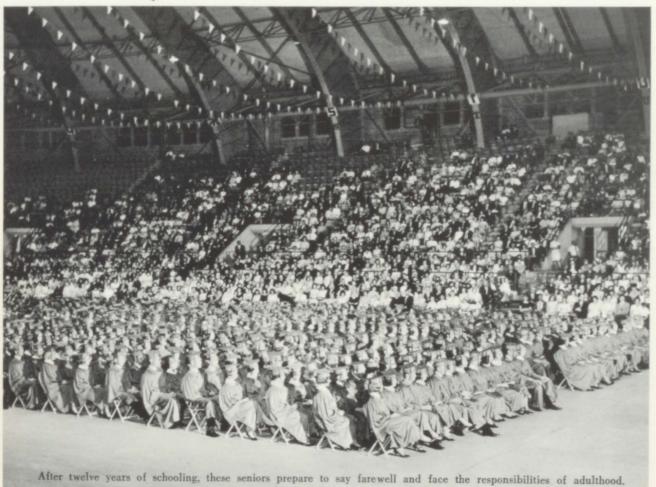

Responsible positions await these student office assistants who work an hour each day in serving their school.

Responsibility Ahead

RIGHT: A combination of intellect and study helped Donna Albritton, Jimmy Dawson, Timothy Moon, and Steve Malcom to become National Merit Semi-Finalists.

BELOW: Cadet Lt. Colonel David Waddell and his sponsor Sherry Boyett received the highest honor in ROTC when they were named the corps' topranking officers.

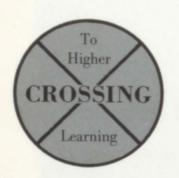

For Achievement

LEFT: Class officer candidates Pam Reinsch, Herman Garner, Mike Mc-Govern, and Linda Blevins put up some colorful campaign posters. Herman achieved his goal of being elected a Student Council senator.

FACULTY

A handshake and a smile from the principal tells David Waddell how proud Woodlawn is of the National Legion of Valor Award he has just received.

As Mr. Turner waited on the sidelines to participate in the program, Homecoming attendants were introduced to an enthusiastic crowd at halftime in the Neville game.

Principal Greets Winner Of Award

Mr. Earl Turner ... Principal ... BS, NSC; MA, LSU ... has been top administrator at Woodlawn since it opened seven years ago ... wife works as librarian at Midway Junior High School ... enjoys playing golf in his spare time ... was a bomber pilot in World War II ... is mainly responsible for the efficient operation of the school ... feels that the Woodlawn school spirit contributes to the school's fine reputation ... attended the University of Arkansas last summer.

South Vietnamese Ambassador Vu Van Thai, who spoke at Woodlawn's First Annual Forensic tournament, toured the school library with Mrs. Lois Allen, Mr. Turner, and Mrs. Alice Richardson.

Mr. Turner watched with interest the latest teen-age steps at the Homecoming Victory Dance.

"Citizenship Week at Woodlawn" was proclaimed in October by Mayor Clyde Fant. Attending the ceremony to receive the proclamation were Mr. Turner, and Student Council officers, Cathy Dahmer and George McGovern.

Having crowned her Homecoming Queen, Mr. Turner presented a bouquet of red roses to Terry Woods.

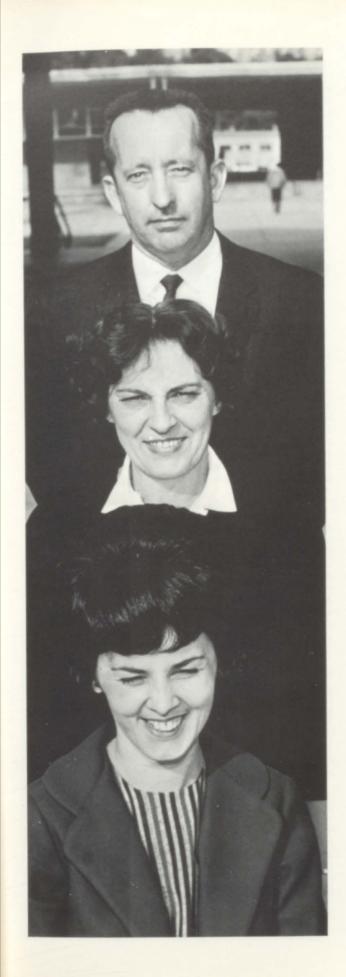

MR. J. W. COOK, JR. . . . Assistant Principal . . . BS, La. Tech; M Ed, NSC . . . enjoys fishing, sports, and playing golf . . . in charge of student discipline . . . handles student elections . . . has not missed a single Knight football game in the school's seven-year history

MRS. HELEN DEAR ... Assistant Principal ... BA, NSC; M Ed, LSU ... registers new students ... is in charge of all student schedules ... coordinates guidance program ... visits classrooms with supervisors ... likes to sew her own clothes ... plays organ for her church

Assistant Principals Co-ordinate Program

Smiles by Mrs. Dear and Mr. Cook reveal that they are pleasant administrators who sometimes forget school problems.

Mr. William C. McDaniel, Mrs. Randle J. Geisler, Mrs. Sarah Sneed Williams

ONE WAY

To A Successful Future

ACADEMIC

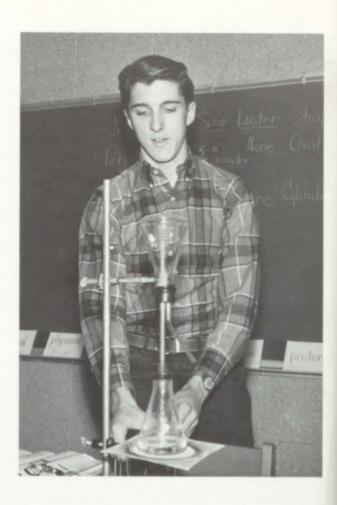

RIGHT: General Science student, Vic Bryson, demonstrates a model of a steam-heating system and the process in which steam is produced. Experiments are done in science classes to explain the theories of scientific investigations. BELOW: David Waddell, Carolyn Raines, and Francine McKelvey determine the mass of electrons by using some of the new physics equipment.

Science Classes Taught By Projects

BELOW: Lexie Cantrell (left), Gloria Hughes, and Joyce Beck (back) use the microscope for the study of protozoa in Mr. Carson's first period Biology class.

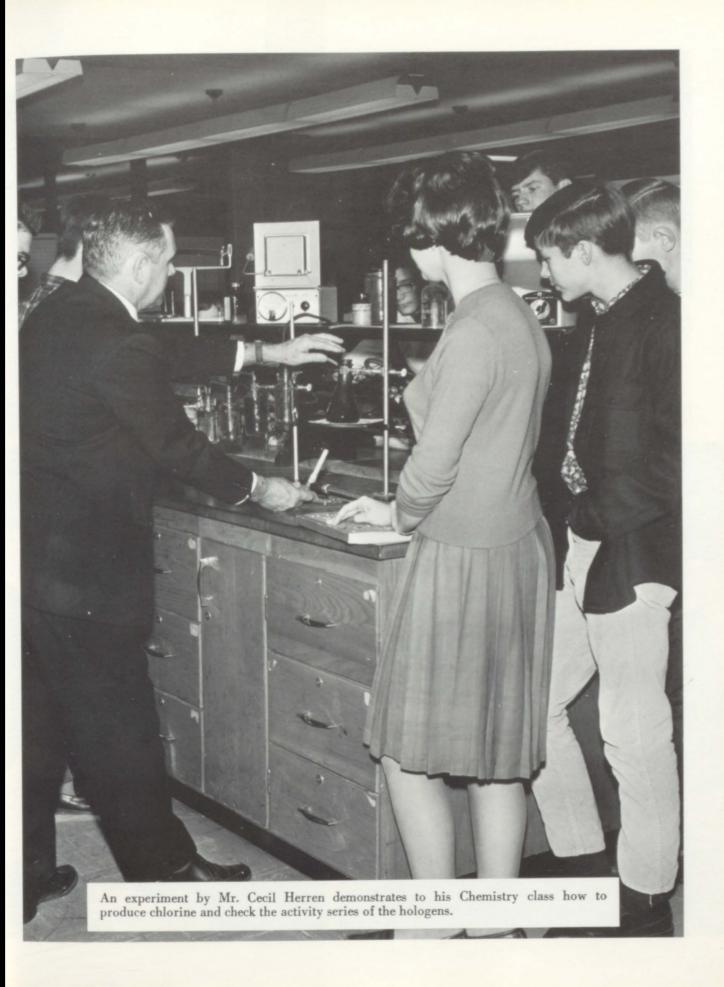

Sounds of amazement and unpleasant smells are common things in the school's numerous science classes when experiments are being done. WHS offers four science courses, from which two units are required.

General Science introduces the major fields of science. Teachers assign students special group projects of various types depending on their own interests.

Emphasizing the science of life, Biology includes detailed study of protozoa, plants and animals. Much dissecting, microscopic work, and long-term projects are usual activities in Biology. Some classes watched guinea pigs, white rats, and snakes grow under special conditions.

Lab experiments, theories, and mathematical problems are basic elements in a Chemistry course. Physics, the study of matter and energy, has become a very well-liked subject among the students.

Astounded by the unusual antiques at "Roseneath" were Beverly Garrett and Lana Pilcher whose English class visited this ancestral home last spring,

As part of a class assignment in senior English, Dorcas Wartick and Lonnie Hopkins dramatize a scene from "Pygmalion," written by George Bernard Shaw.

Senior English students, Diana Taylor, Gary Coyle, Sally Mackey, Jerry Tanner and Raleta Tapp are interested in the climax of the play, "Vanity Fair." This is only one of the famous works which are studied during the course.

Dewey Mauldin (seated) and other English II students dramatize a scene from Julius Caesar. They also memorize Antony's speech to the Roman citizens.

English Classes Try Team Teaching

English is always with us, thus it is an important part of every school curriculum.

Teachers constantly search for more effective methods of class presentation. Thus team teaching, a fairly recent undertaking, was explored briefly at Woodlawn High this year. However, most teachers find that class discussion is a very successful learning device.

During the three years a Knight spends at Woodlawn he studies grammar in detail. He also reads Hamlet, MacBeth, and other classic writings.

For excelled students, Woodlawn offers Rapid Learner classes which use panel discussions and debates.

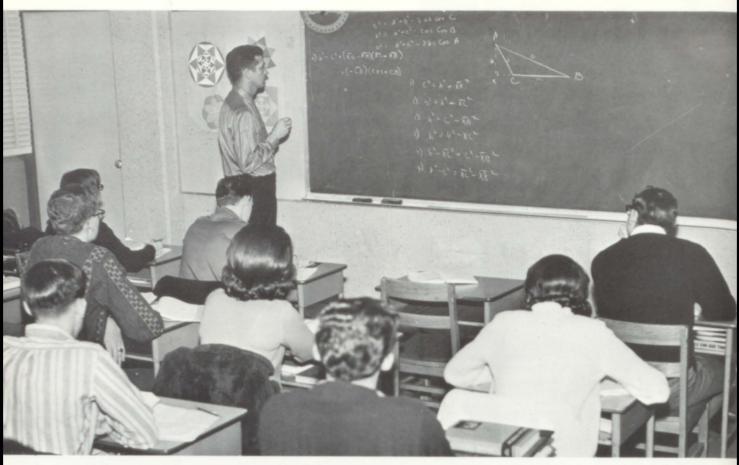

Students view television movies and theatrical plays for further understanding of modern culture. Throughout the Castle, many one-act plays are written and produced by talented Knights as well as poems and short stories.

Obviously, English grammar books are plentiful. Under the guidance of Mrs. Alice Richardson, these sophomore students check their papers for errors.

From newspaper ads and recorded speeches, these English III students are listing propaganda words which have become "influential traps" in modern society.

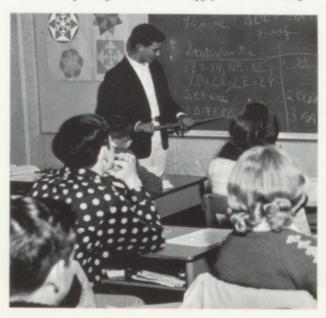

A homework problem on the cosine law of plane trigonometry is explained by Mr. John Wilder to his Advanced Math class.

Business Math Students Prepare Tax Forms

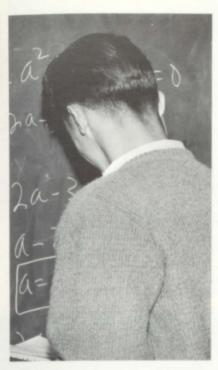

Student work at the board is an effective way of learning in a math class. These Geometry students learn through individual participation how to apply their knowledge.

Ten faculty members teach six math courses necessary for college or vocation-bound students, although only two of these credits are required.

General Math and Business Arithmetic help to give a general working knowledge of math used in everyday life. General Math teaches one to make change from a cash drawer, write checks, keep a check register, balance this against a bank statement, and to work out budgets. Algebra I, Geometry, Algebra II, and Advanced Math are math subjects offered to college-bound students.

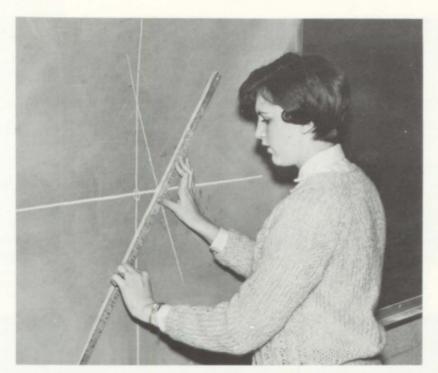

Mathematical films, which are available at Woodlawn for the first time this year, enable the students to improve their understanding of units of work and basic conception of arithmetic. A combination of lectures and demonstrations are employed by most of the math teachers. Some teachers feel that individual work periods help students because of the wide range of ability levels.

With the use of "old faithful," the blackboard, Algebra II student Zack Foshee solves a quadratic equation.

Business Math students, Homer Speakes and Janie Burks learn to fill out their own income tax returns.

Gayle Robinette, one of many Algebra I students, learns the basic fundamentals of algebraic equations. Graphing has become one of the most popular ways of completing problems in modern algebra and new math classes.

"The distance around the outside of your circle is 375 millimeters," states Mrs. Alice Aiken as she explains how to measure the circumference of a circle to the students in her General Mathematics class.

Business Courses Require Accuracy

Speed and accuracy are key words for two of the business courses, Shorthand and Typing. Other courses offered to a student who plans a secretarial or stenographic career are Bookkeeping, Clerical Office Practice, and Business English.

Developing understanding of business principles and concepts, Clerical Office Practice, prepares students for office occupations. Typing and filing are customary activities of this particular course.

"Practice makes perfect," is a favorite slogan of many typing teachers to emphasize the importance of daily practice. Clever games are played in typing classes which create much enthusiasm and determination for higher speed goals as well as accuracy improvement.

Business English aquaints students with the mechanics of English in order to write effective business letters.

Bookkeeping requires individual work periods along with demonstration and discussions. The teachers report that the overhead projector is an effective teaching tool for bookkeeping classes.

Team captains, Jimmy Kellogg (center) and Craig Marlow, check their teammates' one-minute writings for accuracy. Waiting at the board to record the winning side's score is student teacher, Mrs. Pat Dixon. These football games, played each day of a home game and eagerly anticipated by the students, sparked school spirit and also encouraged typing without error.

LEFT: Due to her intense interest in the Civil War era, Julia Ellis has read extensively on the subject. Because of her expert knowledge Miss Coffey had her teach a unit for her American History classmates.

BELOW: For her current events notebook, Michelle Moore scans magazines to find articles on her topic. These collections are made by Civics students to keep them aware of world events.

Thomas Taylor reads a foreign pen pal letter to Frank Falkenberry.

Explaining the Consumer Price Index by means of a graph poster, Doug Bland and other Economics students learn how people spend their money.

History Students Hear Civil War Buff

Where would we be without all the gifts and accomplishments of the past? By studying history, students are able to realize their debt to the forefathers who made our world what it is today. While five social studies are offered, only two are required, American History and Civics. Those which are optional are World Geography, General History and Economics.

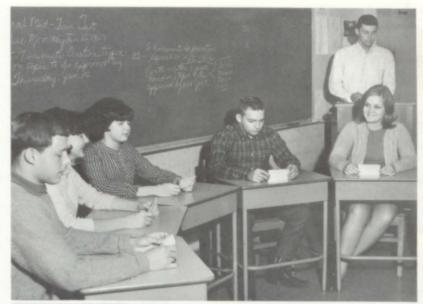

Tracing facts and their effects on today's happenings is the main objective of American History. Civics, the study of government and individual rights, requires much research. Students keep semester notebooks on individual topics concerning today's affairs. As a survey course of how the family, nation, and world makes a living, Economics involves much discussion of present financial situations, budgets, and value. These classes visit stock brokerages and corporations to see actual proceedings of business and how these affect interest, prices, and wages.

General History carries a student deep into major historic events which have a strong bearing on our lives now. Special projects are stressed in this course, to enable the student to gain more than class time could permit: Map studies, land differences and climate are a few of the subjects which World Geography emphasizes. Guided by panel moderator Ricky Ginn, these Speech I students are able to express their own opinions on the Vietnam crisis and other world problems.

In Latin I David King and Angie Robinette have learned much about grammar and vocabulary and are now able to translate from English to Latin.

With a chalkboard filled with a review of French words showing in the background, second-year students do exercises to prepare for mid-semester test.

Languages, Speech Are Chosen By Many

As the world grows smaller, students must familiarize themselves with more than one language. Thus Woodlawn pupils choose to take either French, Latin, or Spanish as one of their electives.

One of the more popular electives, Speech, trains students for public speaking, debates, readers and numerous other branches of speaking.

The language lab has contributed many new techniques of understanding, speaking, and writing the particular chosen language. Student participation seems to be the most effective method of learning the languages. They write and produce plays in their language and present conversations to classmates to promote correct speaking techniques.

Debater Kirk Sanford, speaking on foreign aid and military assistance, sharpens his side of the argument by practicing his advanced speech class.

Spanish II pupils do class exercises on the subjunctive tenses of verbs. In the words of one student, "It's hard!"

Demonstrations of the coil with the use of a magnet tester is explained to the Power Mechanics class.

Elective Courses Add School Variety

A variety of courses is offered to Woodlawn students as elective subjects. In past years these classes have proved to be helpful to college bound or vocational students.

Demonstrations of the new Vogue bound buttonhole at the State Fair proved to be an interesting experience for the Home Economics girls. Training young people to acquire attitudes and feelings that will lead to a successful life is the purpose of Home and Family Living.

Hand skills are developed in such courses as Woodwork, Mechanical Drawing, and Power Mechanics. Electronics is the basis for countless careers. In this particular area a student may go as far as his initiative will allow.

Music appreciation and Art students study much history and background before actually being given assignments or research.

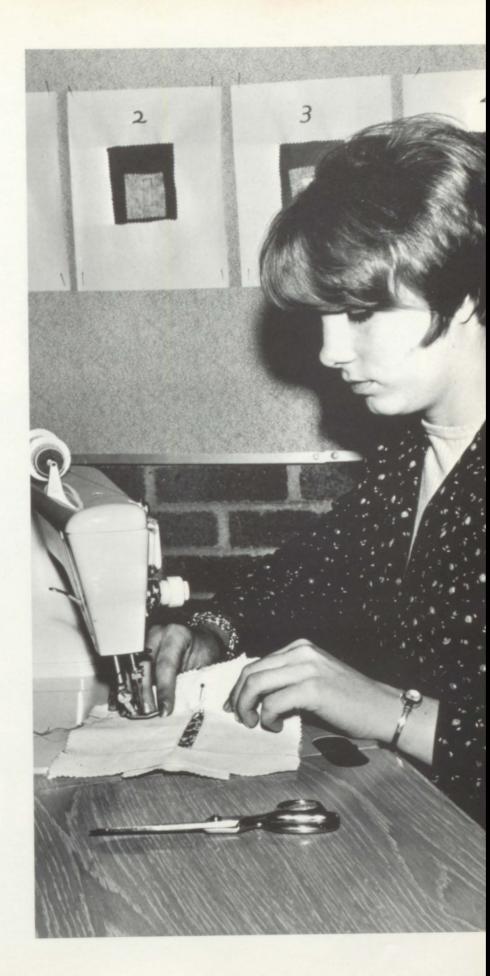

Electronics instructor, Mr. Bob Kendricks, helped his students organize this display for the Science Fair last spring.

Home and Family Living students learn by doing as they have a project which features a make-believe wedding and reception just before the end of the course each year.

Student Council Officers Get Training

Work for the Student Council officers and sponsor Mrs. Ozella Henderson doesn't begin when school starts in September, but long before.

From July 31 to August 4 they attended the Louisiana Association of Student Councils Workshop in Thibodeaux, Louisiana. Cathy Dahmer, Student Council Vice President was chosen outstanding girl representative in the summer workshop. Both Cathy and Cindy Foster, recording secretary, were secretary of their respective groups, and the group in which Cindy participated won first place. Officers also participated in the LASC State Convention at Covington, Louisiana, from October 16-18.

City-wide recognition was given to Woodlawn's Citizenship Week, its first, by Mayor Clyde E.

Fant and Shreveport newspapers and TV stations. During that week members presented a patriotic skit in assembly which featured heroes out of America's past.

Other events sponsored by the Student Council are those such as the Homecoming Dance, Knights' Ball, and several victory dances. They also charter buses for students to out-of-town games, sponsor clean-up campaigns, and assist in school elections.

Comprised of six officers, ten senators, seventytwo representatives, and seventy-two alternates, this organization not only gives a student experience at working in government, but provides a vital link between the student body and the school administration. RIGHT: Pupils attend volunteer before-school chapel services sponsored by the Student Council. Speakers furnished by the council represent all religions.

Knights Informed

Having the largest membership ever, ten editors and forty-five reporters, the Herald placed third in the state in the first newspaper contest of 1966-67, receiving a rating of excellent. Russell Knighton, news editor, placed third in state competition in sports writing.

In publishing eight editions of the Herald, the staff under the sponsorship of Mrs. Elizabeth Lawson, has promoted school spirit by arousing interest in school and community activities and publicizing all facets of student life. Throughout the year they have presented entertaining features, strong editorials, full sports coverage, and regular club news. The reporters compile and write the stories by applying knowledge gained in their journalism classes.

After a year's experience in reporting, interested journalism students may apply for an editorship.

Herald Ad Staff Helps Finance Newspaper

During the hot month of June, ten members of the Herald Ad Staff began selling advertising space to companies in the Shreveport area to finance the Herald for the school year of 1966-67. After selling the ads, they had to plan the layouts for each of the eight editions of the paper and bill and collect the money from advertisers.

To become a member of the Herald Ad Staff one must have a "C" average, a study hall, and sell a certain quota of ads. Desired personality traits include dependability, friendliness, and a willingness to work. The ability to get along well with other people is also important as these members promote public relations between school and business.

Two spring events are eagerly anticipated. All members attend the annual Publications Banquet and those who meet requirements are inducted in Quill and Scroll.

Accolade Staff Gets Eight New Members

BELOW: Mary Bindo (right), Organizations Editor, keeps the identification list moving without delay through the rows of FTA members on group picture-taking day.

"Crop a picture? Do what? Oh, so that's a layout. A cutline ... that's what tells about a picture, isn't it? Sure, I know how to type ... a little."

The preceding statements represent the unsure feelings and slight yearbook knowledge of the eight new members of the Accolade Editorial Staff when they were first notified of their position. But after a two-week orientation program by Miss Smith and Editor-in-Chief Sharon Giddens and a few weeks of work experience, they felt like yearbook "veterans."

Oohs and ahs and words of praise from pleased students and teachers help to re-pay these thirteen people who are almost "slaves" during deadline times. They do a million and one things to make an Accolade, and they enjoy doing it!

"Crop a picture? Draw a layout. Write a cutline . . . Yes, I can do them all!!" say all the staff members when an Accolade is completed.

Accolade Business Staffs Set Record

BELOW: Mrs. Lyn Farless, Advisor, and the Circulation Staff check the amount of money and the number of books sold to verify the accuracy of the first Accolade sale.

Accolade Circulation Staff and Accolade Ad Staff members have every right to be proud of their work this year. The circulation girls sold 1706 year-books, the largest number ever sold, and the Ad Staff also set a record with their sale of ad space.

Under the direction of faculty sponsor, Mrs. Lyn Farless and manager Betty Collins, the Ad Staff contacts local businessmen from June until early fall for the members to sell advertising space in the yearbook. Each works individually to meet her quota of sales. After the sales campaign is completed, they must do the necessary book work which includes billing each month.

Members of the Circulation Staff are the richest students at Woodlawn, at least they handle the most money for four days a year. Those four days are the collection days on which they pick up money received from yearbook sales by homeroom teachers. The staff members promote sales by making numerous artistic posters. Then they distribute subscription pads before each sale, and collect and record the money after all four sales. In May comes their final task of distributing the product they sold—the 1967 Accolade.

Two-year Circulation veteran Loretta Lazarus opens one of the eighty boxes of completed Accolades.

With their 1966 Accolade in hand, Patsy Lafitte, Sherry Boyett, Diane Arnold, Betty Collins, Ad Manager; and Cathy McCullers, Assistant Manager; are off on an ad selling spree for the 1967 book.

Ad Staff Has Largest Football Program

Caricatures of returning lettermen and the Home-coming Court done by Suzanne Morell gave added interest this year to the largest football program in the school's history. Also included in the 64-page program was the first color ad. With an additional eight pages in the Homecoming issue, the total was brought to 72 pages. Thus the thirty-two girls on this staff gave evidence that they had been successful in their ad sales campaign.

By producing the football programs, this group supports the team, the Athletic Department, and the entire school. Sale of the programs at the games gives the girls an opportunity to meet the public.

Long hours, hard work, planning sessions, parties at Mrs. Adams, a bus trip to Bogalusa, the Publications Banquet, Quill and Scroll induction—these sum up the pleasant memories for the thirty-two young ladies who work with this group.

Debbye Whitney and Connie Wilcox "dressed up" to sell homecoming programs at the State Fair Stadium.

Through Projects

Known as a service club, this group surely lives up to its purpose. These civic-minded young men and their club sweethearts give hours to helping others. They distributed waste bags in the city's anti-litter campaign; they rang bells for the Salvation Kettle drive at Christmas; they collected money for Muscular Dystrophy and the March of Dimes. They compiled the program for the school's basketball tournament, and during the year they sold Woodlawn license plates and decals.

Club efforts resulted in packing Thanksgiving food baskets for several underprivileged families, and a group of retarded children had a merrier Christmas because of a Key Club sponsored party.

Brigitte Kuhne, foreign exchange student, was elected an honorary sponsor making a total of eleven girls chosen by the members for their club sweethearts. This year's group of girls is the largest ever named. They help in all the projects.

This group of dedicated club members chooses to meet before the school day begins. Each Tuesday morning at 7:30 a.m. they gather in Room B-2 in the gym for inspirational programs. Members are delighted when their turn comes to attend the weekly Kiwanis luncheon.

Woodlawn Welcomes New Interact Club

Sponsored by Mr. Lonnie Dunn, the Interact Club started off its first full year at Woodlawn very well by ushering for the "Back-to-School" night at PTA.

At a special school assembly early in the year the club received its charter. All members attended a luncheon at El Chico's Restaurant as special guests of the South Shreveport Rotary Club. Later in the year they collected money for the Muscular Dystrophy and March of Dimes drives.

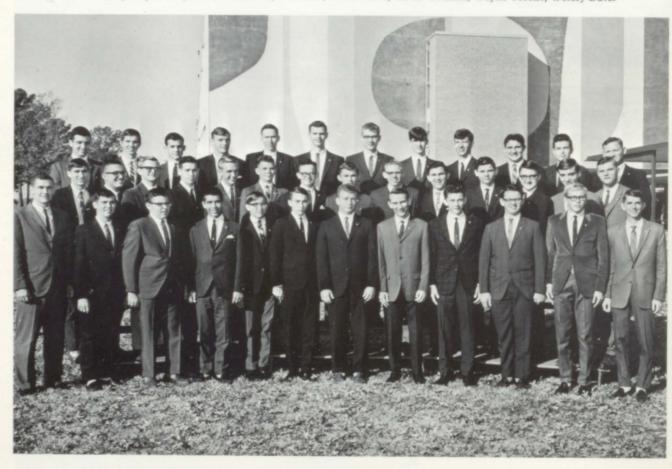

Membership is limited to male secondary-school students who have at least a 2.75 grade average. Provisions allow for sixty members and twelve sponsors, but this year these were only forty members with twelve sponsors.

The Interact Club is dedicated to the local, state, national, and international levels.

Creative Writing Club Donates Volume

Shelves in the school library now house a volume edited by Woodlawn students. This book is a leatherbound edition of all three issues of "The Scroll," the club's official publication of prize winners, and was placed there by the club itself.

In its third year of existence, club membership has grown to forty-five students who meet regularly to receive constructive criticism from their fellow students.

One of the annual projects is sponsoring a booth at the ROTC Carnival. This year various football players were presented in a chorus line. During the Christmas season, the organization works with the Joy Fund to provide food, clothing, and toys for underprivileged families.

At the end of the year "The Scroll" is published. This is comprised of winning short stories, poems, and essays selected in a school-wide contest.

Safety Council Sponsors Fire Drills

To promote safety in and around the school and community is the goal the Safety Council, sponsored by Mr. Ralph White, is striving to achieve.

A spook house was the council's contribution to the annual ROTC Carnival. They also sponsor a Safety Week here at Woodlawn, the fire and tornado drills, present assembly programs promoting safety in daily life, regularly inspect the school's fire extinguishers, control parking problems in the parking lots—these and many more projects are directly carried out by the officers and members of Woodlawn's Safety Council.

Officers attended summer conferences of the Louisiana Youth Safety Council at Bunkie during August, the Louisiana State Safety Council Convention in December at New Orleans at which Woodlawn's delegates presented a discussion on "School Safety Patrols," and the Teenage Safety Conference at Fair Park High School here in Shreveport.

Sources of funds for the organization are the sale of parking stickers and money received from their booth at the carnival. The 140 members, chosen from all fourth period classes meet on the first Monday of each month during fourth period.

Red Cross Has Most Active Membership

"We believe in service for others—our country, our community, and our school," reads a portion of the Red Cross Constitution. This service becomes an actuality as the Woodlawn High School Council of the American Red Cross attempts to carry out this pledge of service. WHS has its largest active membership this year as many homerooms enrolled 100%.

Worthy projects are constantly underway as this organization collects food and prepares baskets for needy families at Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Easter. Members work for weeks to compile, check, and have published a student directory to be sold.

The group contributes toward the purchase of modified school chests to be sent to schools in Vietnam.

Perhaps, within the school, one of the mostappreciated projects is the sale of corsages for Homecoming. Over two-hundred orders for the giant mums and boutonnieres were filled for the 1966 event. The blue and white corsages, made by Marlah's Flower Shop, were decorated lavishly with the school colors of scarlet and royal blue.

Special training received by Janelle Rushing and Nancy Greer at a Red Cross Leadership Conference during August, 1966, helped to enrich the program administered by this organization.

Preparing decorative greeting cards for the nursing home patients are three members of the Z Club, Brenda Walters, Tamara Upchurch, and Margaret Fory.

"A service organization in every sense of the word" defines Woodlawn's "Z" Club under the sponsorship of Mrs. Margetta Stoddard.

Giving their time to help others, the members worked in the March of Dimes and Muscular Dystrophy drives, sent clothes, toys and food to Frost Home for the retarded, passed out one thousand litterbags for Operation Big Sweep and buttons urging citizens to vote on November 8, made place mats for residents of the Guest House, made cookies for the Caddo-Bossier Association for Retarded Children, took a child to speech therapy classes and tutored at Atkins School every week, donated money for the defrayment of expenses for the return of foreign exchange students, and collected stamps for tuberculosis schools in Denmark.

Record Membership In DE Club

Under the supervision of Mr. Clyde Self and Mr. Frank Sanders, the Distributive Education Club strives to prepare Woodlawn juniors and seniors for a place in the business world after graduation.

"Earn while you learn" could be the slogan of all students in this program as they attend school half a day and work in the afternoon under the direction of the employing businessman. The students receive an on-the-job grade and get paid for their work. DE also gives two credits per year. A large variety of jobs are held by members of the club, such as office workers, sales clerks and cashiers, which are often continued after graduation.

This year the club had a record membership. Ninety-five students earned wages while they learned more about the business world of which they will soon become a part. During the year, guests from Bell Telephone Company, a business college, and an oil company gave talks about their jobs and other types of work in their particular field.

In March members of the club, chosen by the other club members and the school co-ordinators, attended the State Convention in Alexandria, La.

Latin Club Has Original Programs

At the banquet held at the Petroleum Tower to welcome new members, a skit by last year's group emphasized the fun of belonging.

Second-year Latin students presented an original play at the January meeting thereby promoting an interest in the cultural value of Latin.

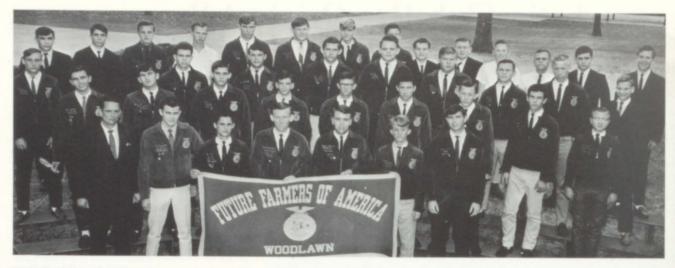

Through such interesting programs, members of Socii Romani, the Woodlawn Latin Club, learn many things about the language they are studying and the people who spoke this language. Other programs have been in the form of skits and discussions of word derivations.

This year Margaret Fory served as State Recording Secretary for the Junior Classical League. A large delegation of members attended the JCL Convention at Fair Park and the WHS group was in charge of registration.

Under the guidance of Miss Jeanette Lee, membership is open to all Latin students who are interested in a further study of the language.

Future Farmers Prepare For Careers

Agriculture is the largest single industry in the United States and employs over 40% of the workers who are employed. Thus it can be said that Woodlawn's vocational agriculture program through the Future Farmers of America is preparing young men for a worthwhile endeavor.

Forty-seven agriculture boys are in the FFA, and they consider membership a privilege instead of a requirement. The chapter offers opportunities for rural youth to successfully participate in various activities, develops leadership abilities, and encourages boys interested in agricultural careers.

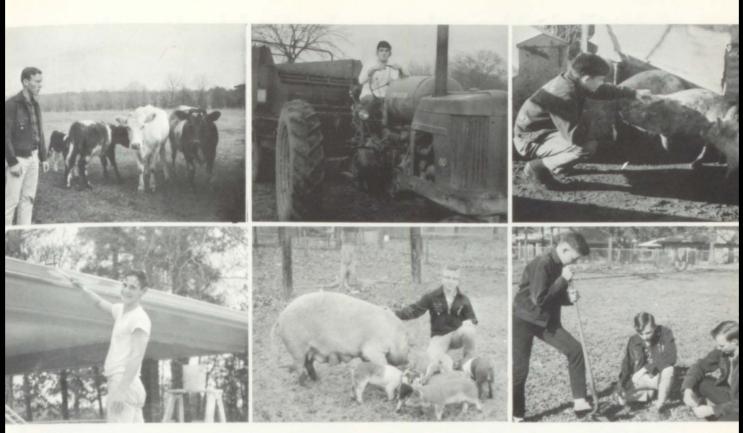

As a special project, they conducted an agricultural rally for several Northwest Louisiana schools which involved educational and skill contests.

Woodlawn's agriculture students were responsible for most of the animals exhibited in the FFA Barnyard at the Louisiana State Fair last fall. The boys received commendation from the State Department of Education for their cooperation in making the Barnyard the children's favorite educational attraction at the fairgrounds.

4-H Club Most Active In Caddo Parish

Mr. J. C. Williams, Vice President of the Panola-Harrison Electric Coop. presented Gary Estess with the champion lamb trophy at the 1966 State Fair.

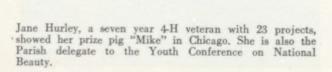

With an increase from thirty to forty-one members, the Woodlawn 4-H Club has remained the most active club in Caddo Parish.

Various honors have been won by the busy 4-H'ers. In November Vicki Williams and Gary Estes attended the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago, Illinois. Attending the International Livestock Show last November were Sharon Bauman, Jane Hurley, Judy Harper, and Marty Swindle. Caddo Parish had one-third of the animals in the Louisiana delegation and five of these animals were from Woodlawn's club. A KSLA-TV Award was presented to Judy Harper last summer.

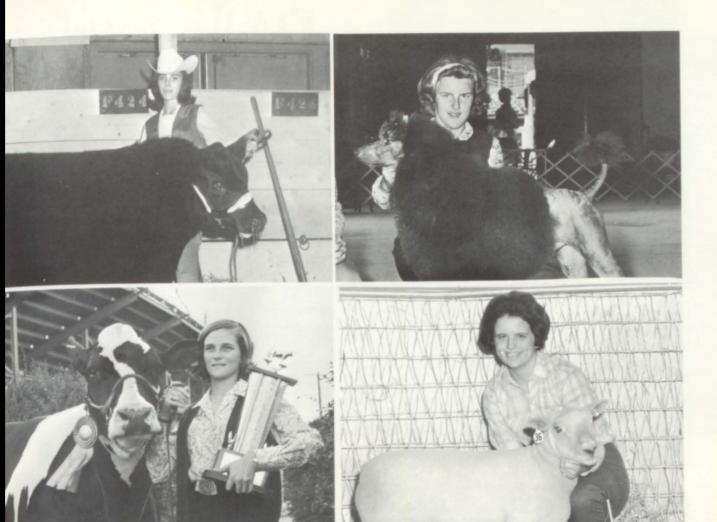

Many worthy activities are undertaken by the 4-H Club. During National 4-H week, the members give cookies to the teachers. They help with the school cleanup by passing out litter bags. At Christmas the club takes canned goods to the Frost Home for mentally retarded children.

Vicki Williams won a trophy for "Prissy," her Grand Champion Holstein, at the State Fair this year.

Although this is her first year in 4-H, Raynell Johnson won first place with her dog project.

Judy Harper, club treasurer, showed her champion lamb Luckey II at the International Exposition.

Enrolled in fifteen projects, Steve Hurley, a five-year member, works on his leathercraft project.

FTA Has Special Day For Teachers

"Hey, that is an apple on her desk!" Each year similar remarks ring throughout the Castle as surprised students see apples on all the teachers desks.

"Who's the teacher's pet?" everybody wants to know.

The pet, or pets rather, are the Future Teachers of America who sponsor a Teacher Appreciation Day.

The main objective of the FTA is not particularly to "get in good" with the teachers, but to enable students to learn more about the teaching profession and to decide whether or not they want to make teaching their career.

Junior and Senior members attend a grade school for one day each spring to assist the teachers and thus learn about lower-grade teaching methods.

FHA Comforts Elderly At Nursing Home

Elderly people in a Shreveport nursing home received Christmas cards and candy-filled stockings from the 100 Future Homemakers of Woodlawn.

One program featured a demonstration on hair styles and how to pick one suited to one's face, shape, and personality by Mr. Mitchell of Guy's Beauty Salon. At another meeting Mrs. Waldrip, home economics teacher at Lakeshore Junior High, gave ideas for making Christmas gifts.

Science And Math Club Takes Tour

Computers and their basic uses were only a part of the program on exhibition for the Science and Math Club's field trip to United Gas. This guided tour not only increased the knowledge of these students, but also deepened their interest in the fields of science and mathematics.

Through regular meetings and discussion, Mr. Charles McLain and Miss Marie Maranto, advisors, acquaint the members with the numerous opportunities available to them in the science and math fields. Each member must have an overall C average and an interest along these lines.

Ingenuity of two club members resulted in the making of an original motion picture which was featured at the ROTC carnival. This film was made by Marlon Morrow and Terry Greene.

Bradford Heads Industrial Arts Group

Enrollment in at least one of the courses of the Industrial Arts department is the requirement for membership in the Industrial Arts Club. These courses are basic mechanical drawing, engineering drawing, architectural drawing, or one of the shop classes. Also, there must be a deep interest in an industrial vocation.

Through the club programs, thirty-five boys broaden their knowledge of this fast-moving industrial and atomic age. Several members of the group attended the annual state vocational conferences.

Members increased the number of sweethearts from three to six this year. These young ladies attend the meetings and take field trips with the group. Their presence helps to build club morale. The sweethearts are—sophomores Cindy Hall, June Hedrick, Judy Oliver; juniors Joanne Norman and Terrie Shows; and senior Kathy Coe.

Spanish Clubber Tells Of Life Abroad

"Life in Venezuela is quite different from life here in the United States," said Jimmie Habans as she spoke to the Spanish club members about her ten-year stay there. Another interesting talk was presented by Mrs. Coil who showed slides of her memorable visit to Spain. This year, as in the past, a successful candy sale was sponsored by the Spanish Club at the ROTC carnival.

Boasting its largest membership of fifty, the Spanish Club's purpose is to promote an interest in the language, culture, and social life of the people who speak Spanish.

No specific qualifications are required for membership except that each student must have taken or at present be taking Spanish.

Films, skits, speakers, and parties were among the activities enjoyed by the French Club members this year. In December the French Clubbers took part in the annual Interlingual Christmas party by providing the band. Brigitte Kuhne, Woodlawn's foreign-exchange student, gave an interesting talk to the club in January.

Having sixty-eight members, the purpose of the French Club is to promote interest in the culture, language, and social life of the people who speak French. Regular meetings of the French Club are held in Room 222 on the first Wednesday of each month. French Club delegates attend the district meetings each year.

Junior Medical Girls Plan Careers

"Are you comfortable?" asks a hospital aid as she enters a patient's room. This is routine questioning for Woodlawn's thirty-five Junior Medical League girls who do volunteer work in Shreveport's hospitals.

Interest in some career in the medical field prompts WHS girls to join this organization. Each girl works one afternoon a week doing jobs assigned to her. Types of work include running errands, carrying trays and reading to patients.

Certificates of citation are given to these volunteers each spring.

Drama Club Gives Play At Carnival

Under the watchful eye of Mrs. Judith Bordelon, the Drama Club began with comedy at the beginning of the year and worked through the straight drama, promoting interest in drama and its special techniques.

"Egad! What a Cad!" a one-act melodrama was the Drama Club's contribution to this year's ROTC Carnival, bringing a profit of $50.

Barbara McMillan, a student from the Centenary Drama Department who traveled with "Book of Job" in Europe, spoke to the club on various occasions, furthering members' knowledge of producing a successful play.

Best Actor, Best Actress, Best Supporting Actor, Best Supporting Actress, Best Technician, and Outstanding Member Awards are presented to active members of the club at an Awards Banquet in the spring. Outstanding participants in the club are eligible for admission to National Thespians, the national drama organization.

Audio Visual Aids Benefit WHS

Under the guidance of Mrs. Odessie Frisch, the seventeen assistants of the Audio Visual Aids Department bring life and enrichment to the curriculum of the castle. Classes are more entertaining, and the subjects are made a little easier by the assistance of these students. Visual aids are a vital part of learning. Through the use of record players, movie projectors, and tape recorders, subjects are made more understandable.

Jerry Walton deserves recognition as he is the only three-year member of the volunteer staff. Jerry's contribution shows how a dedicated Knight can help to enrich the school's educational program. Several others have worked for two years.

Student Library Assistants Shelve Books

About 480 pupils per day visit the school library to read or to check out books. To assist the two school librarians in serving these people, volunteer student assistants work each period of the day.

Several of the assistants have worked for all three years they have been at WHS. All of them together render a variety of services. They shelve books, make out and deliver fine slips, check students in and out, put cards in returned books, deliver messages, help with bulletin boards, check magazines in and out, put newspapers on racks, and generally help to keep the library neat.

Students Serve In Office And Cafeteria

Rendering a threefold service, in which Woodlawn and the Knights benefit, volunteer student workers gain experience in the school's administrative office, the counselors' offices, and in the cafeteria.

Under the guidance of Mrs. Opal Garner, Attendance Secretary, the student office assistants work an hour a day to help to lighten the work load of the office staff. They answer the phone and take messages, run errands, collect absentee cards, distribute morning and afternoon sheets, locate students when needed, and answer the intercom

A first-year group is one called "The Counselors' Helpers." Several students, recommended by study hall teachers, serve during the day as receptionists for the counselors. They also do paper work, alphabetize cards and sign out college bulletins. If needed as extra workers in the office, they serve there, too.

Cafeteria assistants relinquish their study hall each day to perform a school duty. Some workers help with the dessert, bread, and sandwich lines. Several of the "blue-jacketed" football boys stand by the conveyor belt to keep students from stacking trays.

CROSS ROAD

To Future Greatness

HONORS

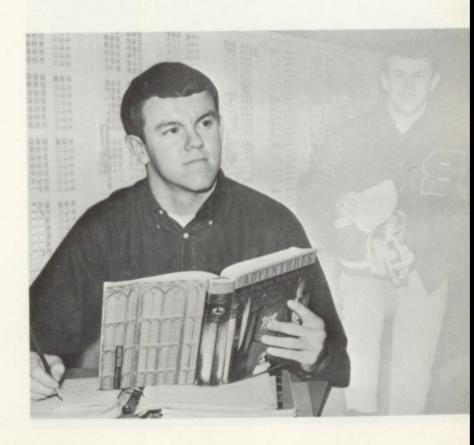

Patty Hodge says that being chosen Miss WHS is the best thing that has ever happened to her. A few of the many other honors she has earned during her three year stay at the Castle are head cheerleader, Accolade Pageant Lady-In-Waiting, junior class favorite, and beauty. Though she isn't as good at football as Mr. WHS, she still enjoys playing as well as watching the game. After graduation, Patty plans to begin training to be an airline stewardess.

Miss and Mr. Woodlawn Dream Of Future

Mr. WHS, Tom Hagin, is not only a three-year football letterman for the Knights, but has also lettered in track. He enjoys all sports including hunting and fishing, but still takes time for dates and dancing. Tom is as yet undecided as to which college he will attend, but he plans some day to play professional football, be a coach, or perhaps an architect.

Though he was chosen an Accolade Pageant attendant in his junior year, Tom was very pleased at receiving the honor of Mr. Woodlawn High School.

Tree Is Trimmed By Senior Favorites

Twice elected class favorite, George McGovern has been the recipient of many honors at WHS. He has been president of his sophomore and junior classes and is now president of the Student Council. Also, in his sophomore and junior years, he was an attendant in the Accolade Pageant. After school hours, George works as a salesman at Yearwood's Dept. Store. After graduation, he hopes to attend LSU and major in engineering.

Cheerleading, tennis, skiing, and horseback riding take up most of Madge Moore's spare time. Madge, who has been a cheerleader for two years, attended Pelican State, serves as a Key Club Sweetheart, Senior Class Secretary, and was in the Accolade Pageant her junior year. After graduating, she plans to attend Skills Research Laboratory during the summer and in the fall she will go to Northwestern for secretarial training.

Eric Johnson, who feels that being chosen favorite was a great honor, plays on the varsity football team. Most of his spare time is spent by fishing, horseback riding, and practicing football. In his sophomore year, Eric was also chosen favorite and to the Accolade Court. He has not yet made definite plans about college.

Junior Favorite, Barbara Richardson has acquired numerous honors at Woodlawn. She was elected favorite, beauty, and Homecoming Maid in both her sophomore and junior years. Reading, all types of sports, and playing the piano number among Barbara's favorite pastimes. She is undecided about the college she will attend.

Junior Favorites Relax With Music

Soph Favorites Enjoy Popcorn By The Fire

Sophomore Favorite, Joe Ferguson, the only sophomore on the varsity football team, also participates in baseball and track. In his leisure time he hunts and fishes. Joe, who is president of the sophomore class and a member of the Key Club, thinks Woodlawn is the greatest.

Kathy Stephenson, a member of Student Council and Pep Squad, enjoys swimming, skiing, and talking on the telephone. She relates that being chosen Sophomore Favorite was one of the happiest moments of her life. Kathy plans to attend La. Tech to study physical education.

Eight Beauties Have Varied Interests

Joyce Craft, elected Key Club Sweetheart, Junior Homecoming Maid, and Junior Class Treasurer, likes to talk and is always smiling even on a rainy day.

Beauty and Homecoming Queen Terry Woods, who has been water skiing since she was eight, plans to be an elementary teacher upon graduation from La. Tech.

Homecoming Court Presented To Fans

Knight fans got their first glimpse of the court attendants at half time as they entered through the castle on the east side of the playing field. With Sir Knight of Woodlawn standing guard, the maids of the 1966 Homecoming Court and their escorts—outstanding graduates of the class of 1966—were introduced.

Joining in the presentation of the court were the Lancerettes, Lancer Drill Platoon, and the Marching Band.

Amid this colorful setting, Queen Terry Woods entered to receive the traditional sparkling crown and a bouquet of red roses from the school principal, Mr. Earl Turner. Immediately afterwards, the Lancers fired a salute to the queen and the band played the Alma Mater.

Following the win over the Neville Tigers of Monroe, a jubilant crowd of WHS students gathered at the American Legion Club to dance to the music of the "In Crowd." Dance decorations were planned by the Student Council, which selected "Knights on Parade" as the theme.

Majesties Reign At Accolade

Pageant And Knights' Ball

All the majesty of a medieval kingdom was in evidence at the Pageant of the Accolade for the knighting ceremony for four senior boys. This event, held in the school auditorium on Friday, February 24, was witnessed by a standing-room-only crowd.

When the curtains were drawn, a magnificent, mystic scene came into view. In the background, a painted castle seemed to glow from a distant hill. Drapes and columns of purple, lavender, mauve, and blue helped to create an effect of royal splendor.

Amid this setting of pageantry, court attendants were presented and advanced to the stage to await the arrival of King George Mc-Govern and Queen Patty Hodge. The attendants' dresses of blue and bouquets of yellow and lavender enhanced the white raiment worn by the queen.

King George, who is Student Council President and Senior Favorite, escorted Queen Patty, who is Miss Woodlawn, Head Cheerleader, and Beauty, to the throne at center stage.

Because of their service, valor, and loyalty, King George awarded the accolade of knighthood to Ronnie Alexander, Steve Ferguson, Ross Oglesby, and Russell Wilks. To signify this honor, Queen Patty then draped one shoulder with a red sash. After the knighting ceremony, several talent acts entertained the court.

For the Knights' Ball, which took place after the school ceremony, the American Legion Clubhouse was transformed into a "Royal Ballroom" for the several hundred couples who attended. Dance Music was furnished by the "Epics," who proved to be a popular swinging group.

Knighted in the 1967 Accolade Pageant was Ronnie Alexander. Ronnie, who transferred to Woodlawn from North Caddo in Vivian, is in the Key Club. Ronnie also lettered in football in his senior year.

One recipient of the Knight's Accolade was Steve Ferguson. Steve, who plans to attend Northeast State College, serves as Student Council Chaplain and also as a Senior Board Member for the Key Club.

Russell Wilks, also knighted at the Accolade Pageant, has lettered twice in basketball and once in baseball. Russell, who likes waterskiing and all other types of sports, was a Pelican State Representative.

Of NFL Tournament

The highlight of the year for the National Forensic League was for Woodlawn to hold its first annual Forensic Tournament. It was held October 14-15, 1966, with schools from Texas and Louisiana participating. Two honored guests at this tournament were Vu Van Thai, Ambassador from South Vietnam, and Mayor Clyde E. Fant, both speaking at the opening assembly of the tournament.

The Woodlawn NFL travels to speech tournaments all over Texas and Louisiana. This year they chartered a bus to carry them to Bellaire High School in Houston, Texas. At these tournaments, they debated teams from Louisiana, Texas, Oklahoma, Mississippi, Alabama, and Tennessee.

Some of the tournaments the Debate Club attended were: Byrd High School Tournament; Centenary Meet; Northeast Tournament; Louisiana Tech Debate Festival; Northwestern Forensic Meet in Natchitoches; Loyola University Speech Tournament in New Orleans; North Texas State Regional Tournament in Dallas, Texas; and the State Championship Tournament in Lake Charles, Louisiana.

Mrs. Alice Richardson, NFL sponsor, says she "loves" traveling with teenagers.

Fifteen Knights Go To Pelican State

Each August several Woodlawn students, elected by the student body, travel to the LSU campus to take part in Pelican State. The students chosen to go must possess the qualities of leadership, scholarship, initiative and personality.

Pelican State is a mythical 51st state with its own constitution, statutes, and ordinances. The citizens of this state organize their own city, parish, and state government for a duration of nine days. They elect their own officials by regular election procedures. They introduce and argue their own bills in a legislature and administer justice by their own law enforcement agencies and courts.

While attending Pelican State several WHS students received recognition. Brenda Walters was asked to go back next summer to be a counselor; Doug Rimmer was chosen as the most outstanding member of the House of Representatives; Debbie Quinn was elected as the best citizen of her city.

Pelican State is held annually to educate the young people in the duties, privileges, rights, and responsibilities of the American citizen. While gathered in Baton Rouge, each young citizen has the opportunity to learn for himself that his government is just what he makes it.

Leadership Conference Trains For Service

Attending the annual Leadership Conference at LSU were nine students from Woodlawn. They represented the fields of newspaper and yearbook journalism, library, and recreation.

Newspaper writing, one division of journalism, held seminars in which writers from the Baton Rouge newspaper spoke to the delegates about the basic fundamentals of news writing. Students there from over the state exchanged ideas, so that they would be able to improve their school papers. Editing the conference newspaper, which was distributed at the farewell banquet, was this division's high point.

A second section of journalism gave basic ideas for the construction of a good yearbook. Miss Willa Smith from Woodlawn was one of the two instructors for this division. The students in her class discussed central themes for annuals, ideas for different sections, and how to make a yearbook "live."

Another division was library management. In these classes such things were discussed as ways to create interest in reading, the type of books a school library should contain, and ways to make the library attractive.

Potential social leaders had a chance to entertain in the recreation division. This group planned the social activities for a week for nearly three hundred delegates. The night activities consisted of a getacquainted party, a talent show, a dance, game night, plays, a swimming party, and a picnic.

LEFT: Waiting to board the airplane are Sharon Giddens, Carolyn Ferguson, Debbie Quinn and June Flowers as they anxiously look forward to the week they will spend at Leadership Conference on the LSU campus in Baton Rouge.

National Honor Society Inducts Leaders

Being chosen for membership in the National Honor Society is one of the greatest honors that can be bestowed upon a student at Woodlawn. These students not only must maintain a 3.0 average, but they must be prominent in the field of leadership, have good character, and above all, render service to the school.

As an honorary organization, National Honor Society does not undertake school projects. But the members themselves do participate in many other school activities.

Highlights of the year for this honor group include the induction of new members each spring and the annual spring banquet. Junior members consult with Mrs. Susie Whitaker, the advisor, to plan and decorate for graduation. They also usher for both baccalaureate and graduation ceremonies.

ABOVE: Honor Society members serve as ushers when needed. On the occasion of a special assembly, they hand out programs to the students as evidenced by Debbye Whitney, David Waddell, Cathy Dahmer, and Brenda Walters.

Knight Journalists In Quill & Scroll

As a national honor society for high school journalists and those in related fields, Quill and Scroll selects its members by the quality and quantity of work they have done for a school publication. The Woodlawn chapter of Quill and Scroll attempts to recognize individuals for their own talents and abilities.

Inductees are selected from the members of the ACCOLADE or HERALD business or editorial staffs and from the Football Program Ad Staff. They must maintain a high scholastic average, be recommended by the advisor, and meet the requirements of the Quill and Scroll Society.

Because it is an honorary organization, Quill and Scroll does not sponsor any school activities. All meetings held are call meetings.

Advisors, Mrs. Elizabeth Lawson and Miss Willa Smith, meet with the officers to plan the induction ceremonies which are held each spring in a school assembly.

Waddell Gets One Of Six National Awards

In a school assembly, on November 2, 1966, Mayor Clyde E. Fant presented the Legion of Valor Bronze Cross to cadet Lt. Colonel David Waddell.

This award is presented annually to one ROTC cadet in each of the six army districts in the United States making an average of one cadet in every 8,000 to 10,000 who receive it. Selection is based on leadership, school activities, church participation, scholarship, and character.

David, who maintains an A average, plans to be a doctor and specialize in surgery. He is president of the Interact Club, vice president of the Latin Club, and holds offices in several others.

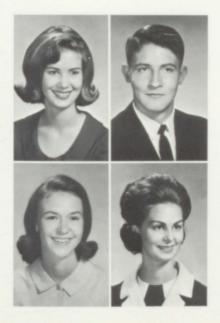

LEFT: Sir Knight is Woodlawn's symbol of truth, honor, and courage. Chosen this year to represent that symbol was Doug Rimmer, who made many appearances in his silver armor to represent Woodlawn. Doug, who says he felt a "tremendous responsibility" in this role, likes to play tennis, hunt, fish, ski, and bowl.

BELOW LEFT: Mary Anne Ramsey, outstanding in many fields, was the girl selected at WHS to receive the "Pat 'Em On The Back" Award given by the Shreveport Optimist Club. Mary Anne is in National Honor Society, "Z" Club, Lancerettes, and is accompanist for the Concert Choir.

BELOW RIGHT: David Middleton received the Optimist Award during Youth Appreciation Week. Recognized because of outstanding leadership qualities, David is president of the Debate Club and is in the National Honor Society. He hopes to be a college English professor and a poet.

Pamela Reinsch, winner of the American Legion Award, has exhibited character, courage, scholarship, leadership, and service. Pam is a captain in the Lancerettes, is in the National Honor Society, and has been Concert Choir accompanist for two years.

David Waddell, also receiving the highest award given to any civilian by the American Legion, is a very active Knight. David is Battalion Commander of the ROTC, member of the National Honor Society, president of the Interact Club, and was a Pelican State Representative.

June Flowers received the Good Citizen Award from the Pelican Chapter of the Daughters of American Revolution. Traits considered for her selection were dependability, service, leadership and patriotism. June is in National Honor Society, "Z" Club, and is vice president of FTA.

Janelle Rushing received the Sertoma Club's Award given to Woodlawn's outstanding American History student. Janelle has been active in pep squad for three years, and has worked as a hospital volunteer in the Junior Medical League for two years, serving as vice president this year.

As Recording Secretary of the Louisiana Junior Classical League, Margaret Fory keeps minutes of board meetings, as well as a record of all state activities. Margaret was elected at the State Convention held last March at Louisiana State University.

Cathy Dahmer received the Elk's Youth Leadership Award on the basis of leadership in school, church, and community and an original essay.

Knights Win Honors Through Leadership

Judy Harper, as State Secretary of the 4-H Club, must record minutes of the meetings which are held twice each year. Jane Hurley is on the district committee of the National Youth Council for Beauty and Conservation started by Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson. Both girls have been active in 4-H for many years.

Kent Wheeler, the only person from Woodlawn in All-State Choir, was chosen in competition held at NSC. He plans to be a medical missionary.

WHS Has Third Foreign Exchange Student

From the town of Kassel, Germany, comes Brigitte Kühne, who says, "I am as proud of 'my school' as any other Knight, and of course I am convinced that 'my school' is the best."

At WHS Brigitte has been an honorary member of the Key Club, Lancerettes, Safety Council, Homecoming Court, and the Accolade Pageant.

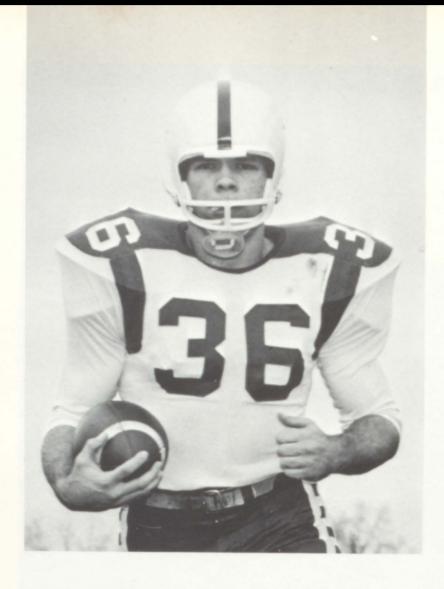

In June, she will leave the Reinsch family and go to Washington, D. C. to meet the other American Field Service students. Together they will take a three-week tour of the United States before returning home.

Brigitte will attend school in Germany another year. Then she will study languages with the hopes of becoming an interpreter.

She crocheted the sweater beside her.

ABOVE: Vicki Williams received the Governor's Award last spring from Governor McKeithen for being the Outstanding 4-H Club girl in livestock projects in the state of Louisiana.

LEFT: Fullback Ross Oglesby was named to the All-State team as he led the district in rushing with 1,308 yards in 253 carries. He was 2nd in league scoring with 90 points.

Knights Make All State In Sports, Music

Mike Williford, who has played the clarinet since the seventh grade, made All-State Band in competition at NSC. Mike also plays the piano for the Youth Choir at his church.

Wayne Woodall (seated), French Horn player for four years, was the only Knight to make All-State Orchestra. Wayne, also in Honor Band, has played in the Junior Symphony.

Gary Hood, another All-State Band member has played the trumpet for five years. Gary has been in Honor Band for three years and also plays in the Stage Band at Woodlawn.

Honors Bestowed Upon Football Players

FRONT ROW: Edwin Tubbs—All City, All District Linebacker, Edwin handed out bruises to many opposing backs who tried to gain yardage in his area.

ROW 2: Randy Stephens—All City, All District—Randy was the only junior for the Knights to win honors. He was cited for his performances as cornerback.

Kelly Reynolds—All District—Serving as the Knights' pulling guard, Kelly cut down scores of defensive players to clear the way for Woodlawn running backs.

Danny Rainer—All City—Playing at center, Danny opened a great number of gapping holes in the middle of the defensive line for his ball-carrying teammates.

BACK ROW: Leonard Richardson—All City, All District—fulfilling offensive tackle responsibilities, Leonard cleared wide spaces for his running backs.

Doug Bland—All City, All District—Doug was the only Knight member to play both offense and defense. He was honored for his work at defensive safety.

Roger McCoy—All City, All District—Roger, better known as "Leroy," carried out his duties at right defensive tackle extremely well during the season.

Jerry Tanner—All District—As a right linebacker, Jerry served as defensive captain. He surprised many backs by catching them before they could get started.

Bill Smith—All City, All District—Bill proved to be the Knight's top pass receiver as he filled an offensive spot for Woodlawn during the season.

Ross Oglesby—All City, All District—All-State fullback, Ross (The Hoss), won fame throughout the state because of his great, overpowering running ability.

(NOT SHOWN) Ronnie Alexander—All City—An outstanding cornerback, Ronnie punished many enemy pass receivers attempting to catch a pass on his side of the field.

STUDENT LIFE

Campus Life Includes Varied Activities

ABOVE: Mr. Cook gives Jimmy Shannon a hearty handshake and a wish for good luck in the future as the graduation hour nears. RIGHT: Carolyn Anderson concentrates as she finishes her senior achievement test.

A student's life is filled with many things. Classes—yes. Meetings—yes. Dances—yes. Ballgames—yes. Homework—yes. Memories—indeed!

All these things and hundreds of others help to make the memories that we keep with us always.

At various times during the 180 days of the school year, we study; we play; we share; we laugh; we cry; we yell; we act; we sing; we march; we drill; and in so doing, we increase in wisdom and stature.

Pictures on these pages should help all knights to recall some of the activities that helped to make this year a happy one.

ABOVE: Craig Marlow talks with Mr. A. D. Murray, representative of the Rehabilitation Center, about a football injury scholarship for college.

LEFT—TOP: "Onions in the Stew" was the play given by the senior class this year. Roger, played by Billy Piccolo, has accidentally let a swarm of bees into the house and terror has spread.

SECOND: Miss Cindy Smith, student teacher, is surprised with a gift from the cast to show their appreciation after the first performance of the play.

THIRD: The musical score for Camelot stands ready for use as Woodlawn students prepare for their performance.

BOTTOM: Sir Lancelot, played by Steve Ferguson, has just arrived in Camelot and sings of his pleasure at being there.

BELOW: Lady Guinevere, portrayed by Debbye Whitney, sings "The Lusty Months of May" in Act I Scene 5 of Camelot.

Japanese magnolias that bloom each spring in front of the cafeteria add beauty to Woodlawn's campus.

Mrs. Tommie Simmons tells Jo Armstrong how to cut out one of the costumes being used for "Camelot."

Knights Use Hands For Creative Talents

RIGHT: Mrs. Watson's classes collected clothes and toys to give to the Joy Fund for Christmas. Brenda Grant (left) shows Patsy Harrell a dress she made for it.

LEFT—TOP: National Key Club Week was the theme of an assembly sponsored by Woodlawn's club. A skit and a speech were given explaining the function of this service organization.

MIDDLE: Changing classes is an ordinary sight at the Castle. Crowded halls and student-filled walks are an interesting spectacle.

LEFT—BOTTOM: Reverend E. E. Taylor spoke one day to Woodlawn's students during chapel, which is held each Wednesday morning before school begins.

BELOW: Queen Patty Hodge presented a red sash to Ronnie Alexander after King George McGovern conferred knighthood upon him.

LEFT: Valery Hansen, a member of the newly organized Chess Club, enjoys a quiet afternoon of competitive chess playing at their monthly meeting.

A knight selects his food in the cafeteria and proceeds down the lunch line to choose his dessert.

Members of the Lancerettes, Mary Beam and Lula Hodge, sell refreshments at all home basketball games.

Knights Render Many Services To School

LEFT: As a portion of his pre-flight inspection, Ricky Blake drains the sump and spot checks the engine of his Cessna 172 prior to making a flying trip over Woodlawn. Ricky, who has known how to fly for three years, flew the Accolade photographer, Mr. Tom Drummond, to take the aerial shot in the front of this book.

BELOW: Leonard Richardson enjoys the Knights' Ball as he stands and watches his date finish this dance alone.

Pep squad members help to spread spirit throughout the school by yelling with the cheerleaders and student body.

Basketball Games Get Pepsters' Cheers

RIGHT: With A Company Staff in the foreground, Company A cadets march to the parade line to execute the manual of arms for the Battalion Staff.

RIGHT: As quarterback Joe Ferguson gets a breather on the sidelines, he gets instructions from Coach Williams. Joe, a sophomore, led the Knights to the first undefeated season of regular play.

Crowds of students gathered in front of the gym to yell with the cheerleaders before preparing to leave for Bogalusa.

Peaceful Scenes Refresh Weary Students

BELOW: Two rifle team cadets compare targets after an afternoon of practice. Dick Howell, who had scored 90 out of a possible 100 points in standing position, tells a sophomore how he might improve his skill.

RIGHT: When Knights get discouraged or weary, they can easily be refreshed by the peacefulness and serenity of this view from the west stairwell window.

By Salute From A Former WHS Queen

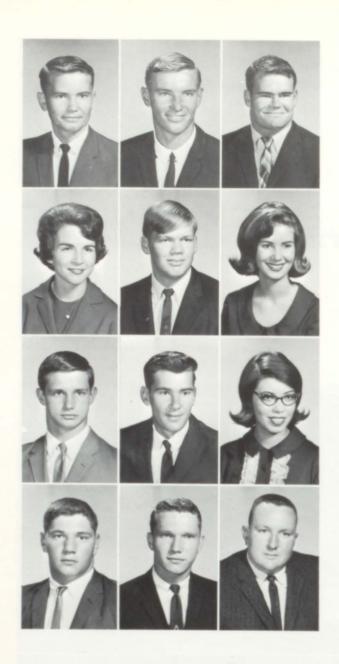

LEFT: Terry Woods, 1966 Homecoming Queen, was presented to the student body in a ceremony which also included last year's queen, Susie Wright and Sir Knight, Doug Rimmer. RIGHT—TOP: As early-arriving teachers enter the office door each morning, they see two familiar faces. Judy Shope and Francine McKelvey, who also come early, sit on the office bench and study as they wait for the building to open. BOTTOM: Two of the football managers, Lynn Presley and Jimmy Dawson, try to ease the heat with wet towels.

A senior's life-long dream is finally realized on graduation night. For it is on this night that he wears a blue cap and gown and feels the swish of a red tassle as he turns his head. All of this signifies that he is graduating from Woodlawn. These seniors line up at Hirsch Youth Center and prepare to march in for the ceremony.

Producing the Herald takes hard work, and reporter Susan Welborn agrees as she refers to her journalism book and works on a newspaper article.

"Would this be a good point for me to bring out?" asks David Legan of Miss Cindy Smith, student teacher, while he prepares for a coming debate.

Eighty-Seven Musicians In Concert Band

"This year's Concert Band is the best group of musicians I have ever taught!" said Mr. Richard Jennings when asked how he feels about Woodlawn's present Concert Band.

Mr. Jennings, in his seventh year as director of all three Woodlawn bands, is also this year's President of the Louisiana Band Masters' Association.

Dressed in "West Point" style uniforms, the eighty-seven members of the Concert Band promote spirit in both school and community. They played in the State Fair and Holiday-in-Dixie parades, all regular season and state playoff football games, special assemblies, pep rallies, and the Marching and Playing Festival at Natchitoches at which a "first place" rating was received by the band as a whole.

Two Concert Band members were chosen to participate in the All-State Band, and one in the All-State Orchestra.

The uniform coat is royal blue with white crossbelts; the pants are blue-gray with a royal blue stripe; and a nine-inch ostrich-feather plume sets off the gray hat. White gloves and shoes complete the uniform. This is the last year these uniforms will be used, as new ones will arrive in which to begin the new school year.

RIGHT: Mr. Richard Jennings leads the sophomore and junior band members in the processional march at the Baccalaureate service for graduating seniors. FAR RIGHT: While the cheerleaders perform, band members take a quick "break" during a pep rally. The drums, new this year, helped create the excitement at the six out-of-doors pep rallies at which the band played.

SERGEANTS: Scott Franklin, Bobby Goyne, Gary McClung, Raymond Morrison, Donna Albritton, Mike Shofner, Stan Brown, Henry Howard

Band Performs Star Burst At First Game

After practicing only one month, the band executed the "Star Burst" maneuver at the first game of the season. Each file goes in a different direction, and every step is counted and measured so they can return to a "Block" in the equal number of counts.

LOADING CREW: Jay Reddy, Eugene Lee, Robert Mc-Wherter, Joe Preston, Quartermaster; Randy Williams, Ray Ambrose, Jeffery Smith. This group is sometimes responsible for loading almost $50,000 worth of equipment.

Captain Bill Barksdale displays the marching trophy won at Bossier City in November. Three judges unanimously gave the band this Superior Award, which was won for the second time in the school's history.

RIGHT: Hours of practice helped the feet to keep in perfect step as Drum Major Andy Twyman led the band in the State Fair Parade.

In an Extended Block Maneuver, the Concert Band prepares to exit to the sidelines at the North Caddo game.

Knights' Band Has Record Membership

Fifty-two Castlites comprise this years Knights' Band, the largest in the history of the school.

Meeting daily during fifth period, they work hard to improve their playing skill and techniques. This year they performed at one out-of-town and two home football games, a spring concert, and traveled to Natchitoches to play in the Marching and Playing Festival.

When asked how he feels about the Knights' Band, Mr. Jennings replied, "They are a great group to work with. They work hard to improve, and they take pride in their accomplishments. That's a good sign!"

Stage Band Obtains New Scarlet Blazers

Attired in scarlet blazers with a navy blue shield on the pocket, a blue ascot tucked under the neck, and dark blue pants or skirts, the twenty-two members of the Stage Band are not only excellent to listen to, but pleasing to view.

Exploring the literature of the "Big Band" era of the 30's they perform music in the "Jazz" idiom.

School assemblies, civic clubs, conventions and numerous groups have had opportunity to hear their music.

This group is remarkable because they do all their practice after school hours.

Concert Choir Enrolls Sixty Members

Claiming a total of sixty members, this year's Concert Choir is the largest in the history of the Castle.

Attired in black peau de soie dresses and black suits, the choir members present both a striking appearance and a pleasing performance.

This year, Shreveporters were able to see the choir at their winter and spring concerts, a PTA meeting, local shopping centers for Christmas caroling, a Rotary Club luncheon, and the annual Music Festival at Northwestern State College.

Meeting daily during fifth period, these musicians strive to improve their singing ability and to learn new techniques and methods of attaining this goal.

One member, Kent Wheeler, was honored by being chosen as a member of the All-State Choir, and several members received parts in the school musical "Camelot," which was presented in April.

When asked how he felt about teaching the choir, Mr. Simmons, in his seventh year as Woodlawn Choir Director, replied, "It is a challenge to work with young people in the arts as they are striving for a goal that is hard to reach. I enjoy working with them; they're a good group of singers, highly musically inclined."

Featured entertainment at a recent Parent-Teacher's Association meeting consisted of a light program of popular and folk songs presented by the members of the Concert Choir under the direction of Mr. Melvin Simmons.

Three Girls Accompany Concert Choir

RIGHT: "They are the director's three extra right arms," says Mr. Simmons of his Concert Choir accompanists, Barbara Strickland, Pam Reinsch, and Mary Anne Ramsey.

LEFT: Male members of the Concert Choir were featured on the program for the January PTA meeting. Making their first public appearance "without the girls," they sang an arrangement of "The Sweetheart Tree."

BELOW: "Silent Night is a good song to sing at the Winter Concert," said Mr. Simmons as he and the Concert Choir officers selected songs to present.

Backstage in the rehearsal room, the choir director gives a few "last minute" instructions to members of both choirs before they begin their concert. This annual performance was staged in the school auditorium on the night of December 20.

Presenting one of their many concerts under the direction of Mr. Melvin Simmons, the Girls' Choir gave an interesting program consisting of both popular and folk songs at a Parent-Teacher's Association meeting in January.

Girls' Choir Largest In Castle History

With a total of fifty-five participants, this year's Girls' Choir is the largest in the Castles' history.

Not only are they pleasant to hear, but dressed in royal blue skirts and white double-breasted blazers, they present a pleasing picture.

Begun six years ago, their popularity continues to grow. Castlites and Shreveporters had opportunities to see this choir at a winter and spring concert, a local shopping center, a PTA meeting, and the Music Festival at Northwestern State College.

Meeting daily during third period they continue to strive not only for musical perfection but for personal satisfaction in this art.

Mr. Simmons had this to say about the Girls' Choir: "They're a fine group of singers; I'm proud of them!"

Woodlawn Cadet Corps Changes To ROTC

Woodlawn's Reserve Officer Training Corps unit boasts an enrollment of 195 cadets and 15 sponsors. These students are being taught responsible leadership, self-discipline, and patriotism in a way that they themselves have chosen. ROTC is not required at Woodlawn but may be taken in place of physical education by any 14-year-old boy in good physical condition.

Though this is the first year for WHS to have the ROTC program, the curriculum used for the past six years under the National Defense Cadet Corps is still the same. The difference is that the Federal Government now provides uniforms for the cadets and certain other logistical support that was not provided for the NDCC program.

Cadets may pursue their own interest within the military program by qualifying for the Rifle Team, Lancer Drill Team, or Band Company, and by attending a two-week summer camp at Fort Polk. The two main events of the year for cadets are the Inter-City Military Ball, this year held on March 10, and the annual ROTC carnival and spaghetti supper.

A new shoulder patch was designed this year through a contest. From the 15 original sketches submitted, three finalists were picked by a select panel. Cadet Corporal Chris Towns had the winning entry which is shown on the preceding page. Chris was awarded a commandants' ribbon.

Rifle Team Is Rated One Of Best In State

To M/Sgt. Floyd J. Courtade and the fifteen members of the Woodlawn Rifle Team, competition, sportsmanship, and skill are everyday words. This is true because these cadets discipline themselves and work diligently to better their own records.

Team members must be interested and able in marksmanship, have an acceptable scholastic record, and be willing to devote their afternoons to daily after-school practice.

The skill thus obtained has enabled them to be the second-best team in Shreveport, and the team rates very high in the state.

Spring competition includes matches in Houston, 4th Army Matches in Arlington, Texas, Holiday-In-Dixie in Shreveport, and Regional Matches in Center, Texas.

Lancers Prepare For 4th Army Competition

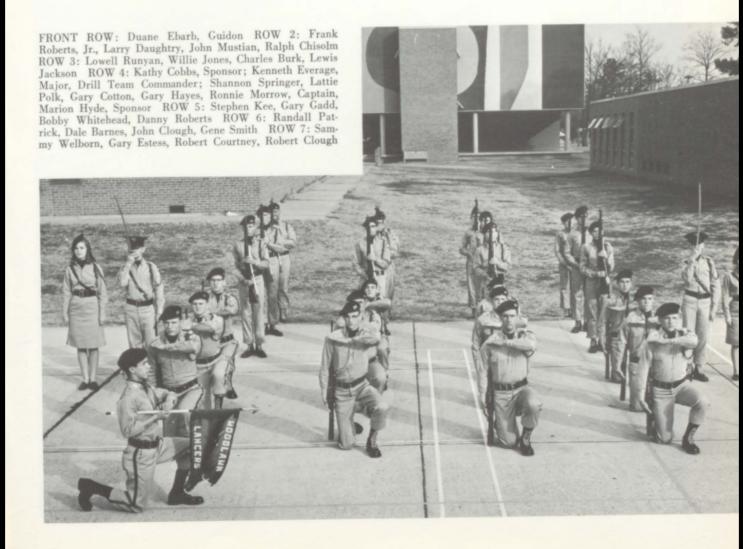

The Lancers execute an order-secure movement during a practice session for spring competition. Team members work after school to perfect their drills.

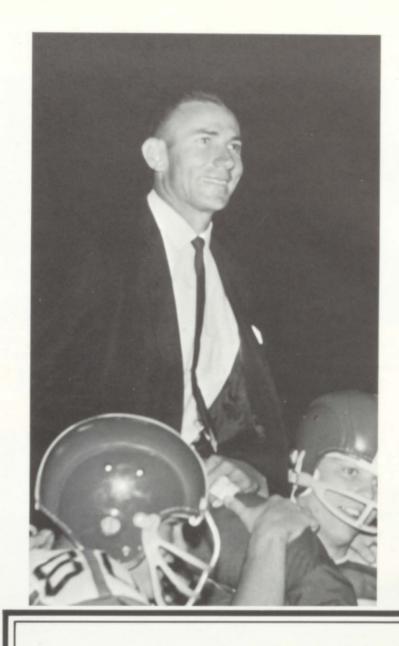

Precision is the key word for Woodlawn's Lancer Drill Platoon. Only volunteers who have a good scholastic average and a sincere desire to excel in precision drill may be members. To meet their own high standards, Lancers practice Mondays, Tuesdays, and Thursdays after school. They know that when they perform, whether it be in a street parade, football half-time show, or official competition, they are a representation of Woodlawn High School and the ROTC Cadet Corps.

Drill Team members wear a khaki uniform with shoulder cord and totally black trim, including belt, boots, scarf, and Montgomery beret. Kathy Cobbs and Marion Hyde, Drill Team sponsors, wear corresponding uniforms.

This spring the Drill Team participated in the following competitions: city-wide meet, Holiday-In-Dixie, and 4th Army exhibition at Arlington, Texas. During the Homecoming ceremony, they fired a 20-gun salute for queen Terry Woods.

KNEELING: A. L. Williams, who took over the duties as head coach from Lee Hedges, was named as the Coach of the Year in District 1-AAA for 1966.

Lowell Morrison came to Woodlawn from Bossier High to serve the Knights as their defensive backfield coach in his first year on the staff.

STANDING: Jerry Adams coached the defensive line. His boys developed into the finest defensive unit to play at WHS and set many school records.

W. B. Calvert again had the task of coaching the offensive and defensive ends. In seven years as coach he has developed many outstanding players.

Ken Ivy was in charge of the Knights' sophomore team. He also was valuable to the team by serving as a scout at future opponents' games.

Billy Joe Adcox, although not a PE teacher, is Woodlawn's offensive line coach. His unit was of most importance to the Knights' attack.

Williams Leads Knights To Finest Season

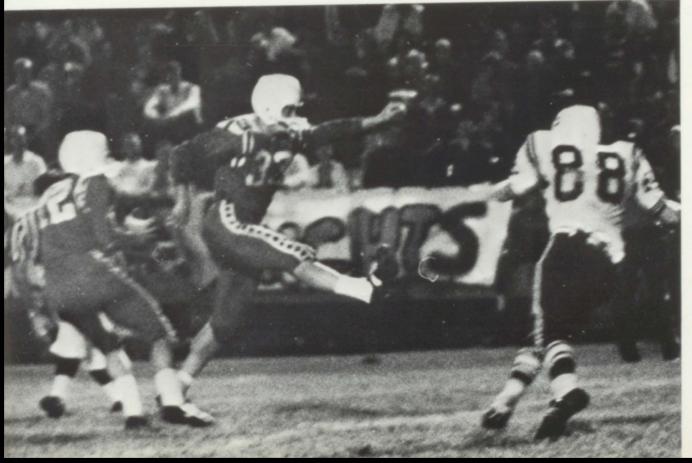

New head coach A. L. Williams produced one of the finest teams the district has ever seen as it went undefeated and untied in ten regular season games. Williams became the head mentor by succeeding Lee Hedges, who joined the coaching staff at Louisiana Tech. Woodlawn repeated as District 1-AAA Champions and entered the state playoffs for the fifth time in the school's seven-year history. They advanced to the quarter-finals before losing to Bogalusa by four points.

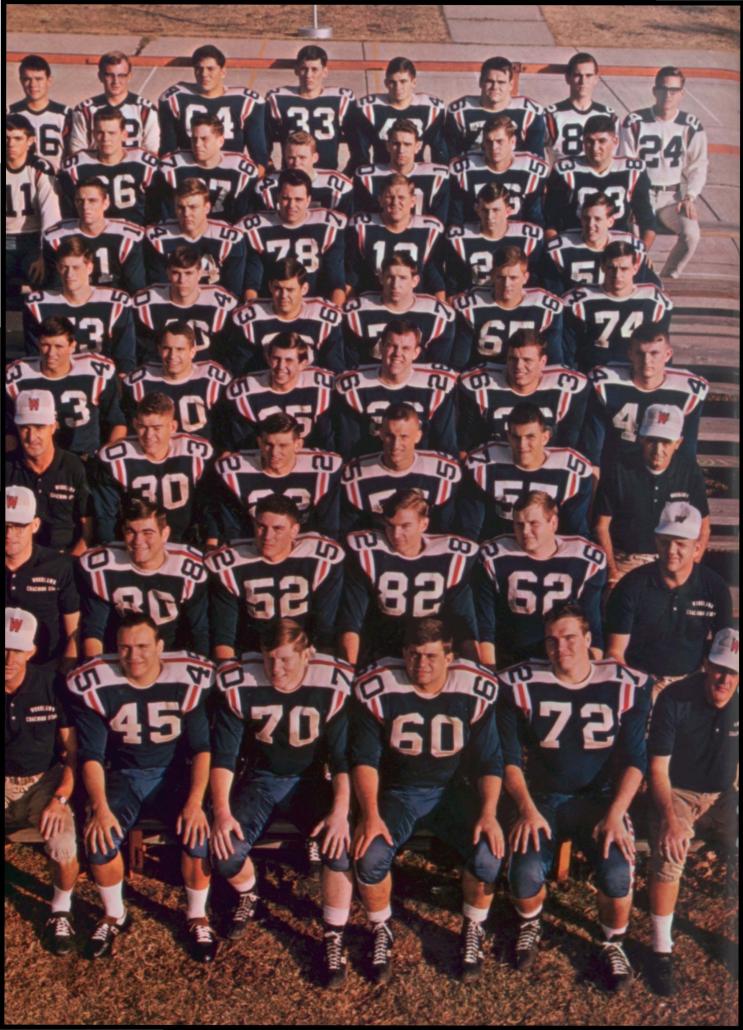

The 1966 edition set records in almost every game of the year. The Knights' defense was the prime factor for almost all of the new marks. In ten regular season games the defense held its opponents to 26 points and only 388 yards rushing, both new district records. Woodlawn had six shutout victories with three of these in a row, also two new school records. The Knights now have won fifteen consecutive regular season games without a defeat, and they have not lost a regular season road game since 1960, a total that now stands at 21 straight wins.

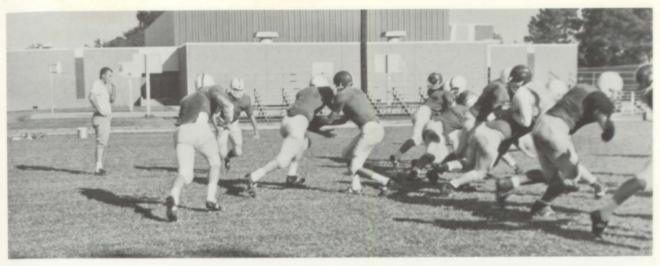

Woodlawn was one of the most decorated clubs ever to play in the district. It placed eight players on the All-City team and had ten members named to the All-District squad. Coach Williams was chosen as the "Coach of the Year" in District 1-AAA. Senior fullback Ross Oglesby, another multiple-record breaker, was selected to the AAA All-State team. Thirty-five boys were awarded a letter in football with only seven returning to play in the 1967 season. There were six juniors and one sophomore lettermen. The awards banquet was held at the Shreveport Country Club after the close of the season.

For the second year in a row, a new coach was added to the Woodlawn coaching staff. Coach Lowell Morrison took over the duty vacated by Coach Williams as defensive backfield coach. In 1965, Ken Ivy was added to the football staff. Both new coaches saw their first Woodlawn teams set high goals and records for future teams to match.

This play baffled the crowd during the Bolton game. With fourth and goal to go on the five the field goal team was sent in, but instead of a field goal James Joyner threw a pass to Ronnie Alexander who went on to score. Woodlawn won 35-13.

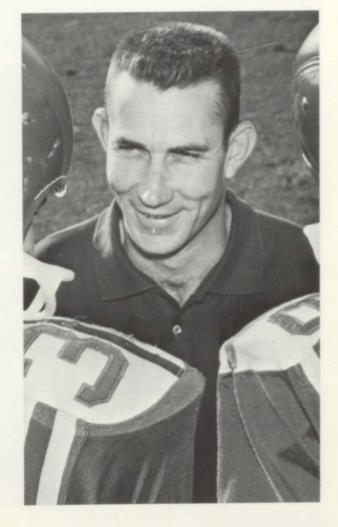

Offensive line coach, Billy Joe Adcox, observes the blocking techniques of his linemen. This year's linemen, the largest in the school's history, spent many hours running through drills such as this, trying to perfect their blocking.

Early Wins Attributed To Strong Defense

Woodlawn 52

North Caddo 0

Woodlawn 13

Fair Park 6

When the Knights took to the field against the North Caddo Rebels, they were guided by sophomore quarterback Joe Ferguson. When the game had ended, the Knights had used three players at that position and they led the team to eight touchdowns and a 52-0 score.

Coach A. L. Williams was pleased as Woodlawn gave him his first victory as new head coach.

Scoring for the armorclads were Ross Oglesby and Tommy Harrington with two TD's each. Mike Turner, Doug Bland, Jerry Walton, and Randy Stephens added lone touchdowns. Harrington converted on four extra points.

Joe Ferguson completed three of four passes and one touchdown in his first starting assignment.

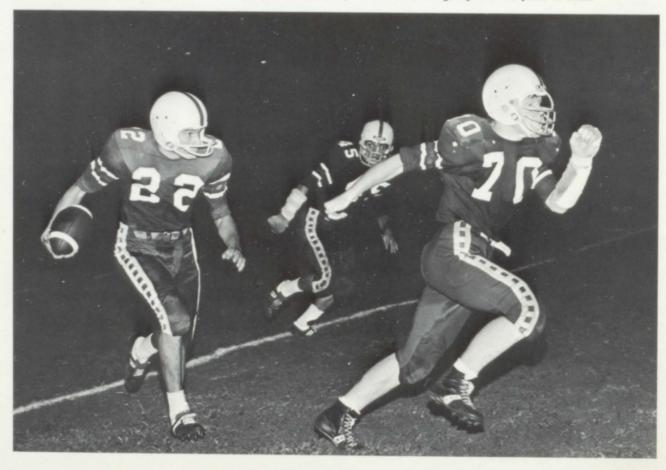

The Rebels were held to only 10 yards rushing and 23 yards passing.

Matched against highly-ranked Fair Park, the Knights defeated the Indians 13-6 for the season's first district victory.

Randy Stephens opened the scoring for the Knights by swiping a John Miller aerial and returning it 61 yards for a touchdown. Tommy Harrington's PAT put WHS ahead 7-0. With eight minutes remaining in the half Fair Park's Wayne Haney caught a pass from Miller for 28 yards and a touchdown. Woodlawn's clinching score came with 5:09 left in the game, with Bill Smith hauling in a 13-yard toss from Joe Ferguson.

The Knights' defense did an excellent job, holding the Indians to only 64 yards rushing compared to our 194. The pass defense held the highly acclaimed Miller to eighty yards passing.

Cornerback Randy Stephens is off to the races after intercepting a John Miller pass during the Fair Park game. Stephens is escorted down field by linebackers Edwin Tubbs (45) and Jerry Tanner (70). He galloped on 61 yards to score.

Sweeping around the end, halfback Tom Hagin is accompanied by a host of blockers ready to clear the way of Tribe tacklers for him. Tom picked up 87 yards rushing during the game to lead the Knights to a 13-6 victory over Fair Park.

Woodlawn 32

Bastrop 7

Senior end Bill Smith pulled in three passes and scored three touchdowns in leading Woodlawn past the Bastrop Rams 32-7. Bill had three receptions good for 79 yards. His first two TD's were 52 and 20-yard passes from Joe Ferguson. James Joyner connected for 7 yards and Smith's final score. Other scorers for the Knights were Ross Oglesby and Doug Bland with one touchdown each. Jim Hodge and Tommy Harrington added one extra point apiece. Jimmy Clark scored for the Rams on a 7-yard pass from Robert DeFee.

The leading ground gainer for the game was Oglesby. He carried 16 times for 101 yards. Joe Ferguson led the passers by throwing for 114 yards and two touchdowns.

All-District end, Bill Smith is hauled down by two Neville defenders after catching a pass. He caught five in all—two for TD's in a 14-0 Homecoming win.

Airline 0

Woodlawn gained revenge by defeating Ouachita in Monroe by a score of 13-6 for its fourth straight victory of the year.

Led by record-breaking fullback Ross Oglesby, knee during third-quarter action. Tom's one-yard plunge put the armor-clads in front 6-0 as he played his last varsity football game.

Ross set three new school records, most rushing attempts, most yards gained rushing, and net yards rushing. He carried 31 times for 179 yards with one being a 60-yard touchdown sprint around left end.

Middle guard Walter Britton blocked an Airline punt in the fourth period to set up the last Woodlawn score. Ross Oglesby crashed in from the one and Tommy Harrington's extra point finished the scoring.

Tom Hagin, the second leading rusher, scored the Knights' second touchdown on a one-yard slant. Tommy Harrington added the PAT.

> Quarterback Joe Ferguson connected on eight of 16 aerials for 100 yards. His principal receiver was Mike Morgan, who hauled in four passes for 52 vards.

Woodlawn's Big Red defense "was great" said head coach A. L. Williams. It held the Lions to only two first downs compared to the Knights 15. Ouachita rushers were held to only 29 yards running and only one yard passing.

The win was Woodlawn's third consecutive victory over Airline, which is in its third year of existence. The Vikings were playing their initial year in District 1-AAA.

Ouachita's only touchdown came in the fourth period on a two-yard plunge by Billy Kemp after a recovered Knight fumble.

Getting excellent protection from his line, sophomore quarterback Joe Ferguson sails a pass. In the first year of his high school career Joe received starting berth and had an impressive record-completing 44 of 100 passes for 842 yards.

Coach Williams discusses some defensive strategy with the captain of the "Red Team," Jerry Tanner.

Doug Bland is pulled down by a Viking after making a sizeable gain. WHS outscored Airline 13-0.

Knights Defeat Byrd as 16,000 Observe

Woodlawn 28

West Monroe 0

Sophomore Joe Ferguson left little doubt about his ability to run the Woodlawn offense by guiding WHS to a 28-0 win over West Monroe. He threw for 166 yards by completing nine of fourteen attempts. Joe combined for touchdown passes of 13, 13, and 20 yards to Mike Morgan, Ross Oglesby, and Bobby Leach respectively. Oglesby also added another TD on a two-yard run. Tommy Harrington converted the four extra points.

The Rebels were held to a minus 15 yards rushing by the overpowering Woodlawn defense. This broke the school record set against North Caddo in 1965. The Rebs stayed in the game by throwing for 211 yards. Woodlawn ran for 206 yards and passed for 166 while rolling up their sixth straight victory and advancing to 5-0 in district play.

Woodlawn 28

Byrd 7

Woodlawn raised its district-leading record to 6-0 by trouncing the Byrd Yellow Jackets 28-7. The Knights' defense led by Edwin Tubbs, Roger Walker, and Eric Johnson was very impressive against the rival Jackets.

With a crowd of 16,000 looking on, WHS jumped to a quick 14-0 lead in the first quarter. Ross Oglesby crashed over from the two-yard line for the Knights' first touchdown. Doug Bland, on a 24-yard romp, added the second score. Byrd's lone TD came when David Brookings sneaked through from the one.

In the last minute of the first half, Bill Smith scored on a 15-yard pass from Joe Ferguson. Oglesby added the final score and Tommy Harrington converted four PATs. The Knights clinched at least a tie for the district title by handing the Bearcats a 14-0 defeat. The game was scoreless until late in the second period when Ross Oglesby scored from the one. Tommy Harrington's PAT made the score 7-0. The score stood the same until the final quarter when Joe Ferguson fired a five-yard touchdown pass to Doug Bland with 6:40 left. Harrington kicked good again to complete the scoring as the Knights spoiled the Ruston Homecoming for a standing-room-only crowd.

The WHS offensive line opened many gaps as the Knights rushed for 218 yards. Oglesby led all carriers as he scrambled for 133 stripes in 29 attempts. Bland was second among the runners; he gained 77 yards. Ferguson, after having his first two aerials intercepted, completed three of his next five for 55 yards and one touchdown. The win was the third straight victory over Ruston in the series.

Neville 0

Woodlawn wrapped up its second consecutive district crown as they defeated Neville 14-0 before a chilled, but delighted, homecoming crowd. Sophomore Joe Ferguson combined with senior Bill Smith for both of the Knights' touchdowns.

Joe connected on six of 10 throws (four for four in the second half) for 141 yards, with Bill catching five for 132 stripes. After a scoreless first half, Woodlawn scored on its fourth play in the third quarter as Ferguson hit Smith for a 68-yard TD. In the fourth period they combined again for a nine-yard scoring play. Tommy Harrington was perfect on his two extra points.

Woodlawn's defense was outstanding, as usual. The "Big Red" held the Tigers to 38 yards rushing and 56 yards through the air. Neville was forced to punt ten times.

Knights End First Perfect Season

Ronnie Alexander scores on a surprise pass thrown after a fake field goal in the opening game of the state playoff. The Knights defeated Bolton by a margin of 35-13.

Bossier 0

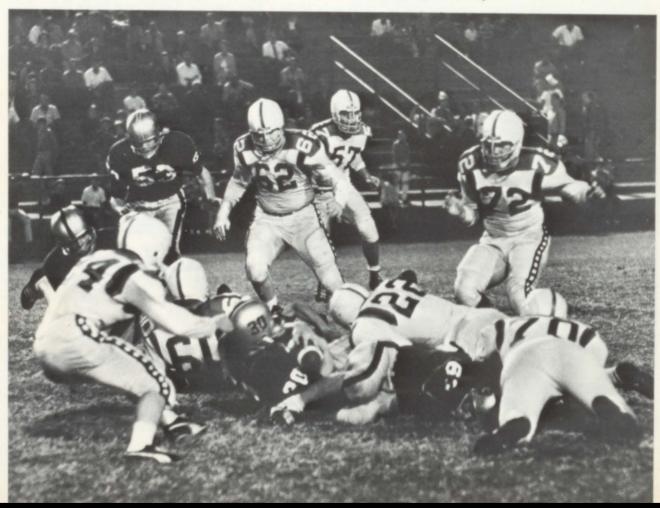

Woodlawn, for the first time in seven years, finished its regular season undefeated and untied through ten games. The Knights advanced to the state playoffs after easily downing Bossier 41-0. The win moved WHS's regular season winning streak to 15 straight victories.

Ross Oglesby ran for 114 yards and broke the school regular season rushing record by totaling 1,027 yards. He scored twice against the Bearkats on runs of eight and four yards.

Halfback Doug Bland scored on a nine-yard run and a 25-yard pass interception runback. Mike Turner tallied on an eight-yard sprint and second unit quarterback James Joyner threw a 43-yard touchdown pass to Bill Smith. Tommy Harrington booted five of six extra point attempts.

The win was Woodlawn's third straight shutout and their sixth of the season—both school records.

Doing what helped make them famous in the state "Big Red" illustrates the art of pursuit. Seven of a possible eleven players enclose the ball carrier. The defense placed six players on All-District team and four on All-City.

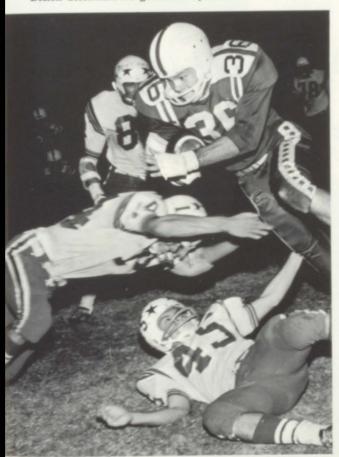

From Alexandria came the Bolton Bears with an upset in mind, but they couldn't hold the Knights' powerful offense and the Bears had to settle for a 35-13 loss in the opening round of the state Triple-A football playoffs.

Ross Oglesby paced the Knights as he ran for 173 yards and scored on runs of 3 and 33 yards. Ross, who had runs of 33, 35, and 21 yards, ran his season rushing total to 1,700 yards, best ever by a Woodlawn player. His two TD's boosted his season scoring total to 84 points.

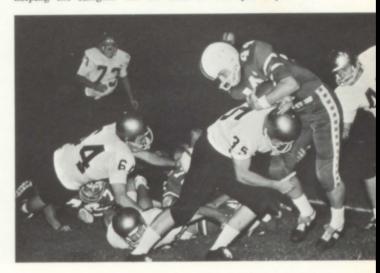

WHS opened the scoring on a dramatic fake field goal attempt. James Joyner tossed a pass to Ronnie Alexander and he squeezed into the end zone. Doug Bland and Tommy Harrington added touchdown runs of 12 and 4 yards respectively. Tommy booted the five extra points.

Bolton, because of a great passing attack, became the first team to score twice on Woodlawn.

BELOW: Big Ross (The Hoss) Oglesby demonstrates why he was All-State fullback this year as he overpowers two Bolton defenders. He gained 173 yards in 20 carries.

Picking up short yardage, senior halfback Doug Bland bulls his way into the Fair Park line. Bland, having a starting berth on both offense and defense, played a big part in helping the Knights win the District Championship.

Woodlawn 14

Bogalusa 18

Bogalusa, which had to come from behind twice, scored with 3:34 left in the game to upset the visiting Knights 18-14. Woodlawn's final effort to score ended when the Lumberjacks picked off a wobbly Joe Ferguson pass and ran out the clock.

Bogalusa scored first with 14 seconds left in the first quarter on a 15-yard pass from Terry Davis, quarterback of the year in District 6-AAA, to Rodney Ainsworth. The Knights came back and drove 81 yards in five plays, with Doug Bland scoring on a 32-yard run. Woodlawn led 7-6 at the half after Tommy Harrington booted the extra point.

Early in the third period Bogalusa scored on a 61-yard bomb to move ahead 12-7. In the fourth quarter Ross Oglesby's 1-yard touchdown plunge and Harrington's PAT put the visitors ahead 14-12. But the Lumberjacks drove 72 yards to the final TD and the quarter-final victory.

Woodlawn, followed by many loyal fans, was given a royal welcome to the south Louisiana town. Bogalusa, the district 6-AAA runnerup, lost the following week to Broadmoor High of Baton Rouge, who later became the state AAA champs. The Knights finished with a 11-1 season record, best yet for a WHS team.

MANAGERS: Gary Childress, Jimmy Dawson, Terry Tucker, Lynn Presley. Gary and Jimmy handle all field work, while the chores in the training room and equipment room are done by Terry and Lynn.

Sophomores Play Double Role As B Team

Sophomore linemen rush the passer during an afternoon practice. They provide a good defense for the varsity to run against in preparing for their games.

The Sophomore and "B" Teams coached by Ken Ivy posted a combined 3-4 season record with the sophomores winning two of five and the "B" team splitting one and one. Composed mostly of sophomores, the "B" Team was outranked by Byrd 19-7 in their first outing and came back to defeat Fair Park 12-7. The tenth graders beat Jesuit and Fair Park. What they lacked in size these boys made up in speed and determination. Even though they had losing seasons they showed capabilities of fulfilling the role of Knights when their turn comes.

With a great heave Terry Bradshaw unleashed another fine throw. Terry was voted All-American in Track and Field last year for breaking the national record for the javelin throw. He broke the old existing record of 232'9" in five meets during the regular season, his best throw being 244'11".

LEFT: Coach Adcox received invaluable coaching experience under Coach Paul "Bear" Bryant at Alabama while he was getting his Master's Degree. RIGHT: Coach Williams is a well qualified track mentor also. He ran track for La. Tech during his college career where he won many medals.

Three-year letterman, Tommy Spinks did the pole vaulting for the Knights. He won first place vaulting honors in the Woodlawn Invitational.

Sophomore Randy Stephens leaps through the air during the triple jump event. He took second in district and placed fifth in the state meet.

Bill Ebarb, sophomore letterman, clears the high bar once again. Ebarb jumped 6' even to win the high jump event in the District Meet. Traveling to the State Meet with three other Knight thinclads, he placed third with a jump of 6' even.

Bradshaw Sets New National Record

Two-year letterman, Ross Oglesby was the district number one sprinter of the 180 yard low hurdles last year. He was second in state running for a time of 19.8.

Record-breaker Terry Bradshaw led the 1966 track team to its greatest season in the history of the school. Bradshaw gained national acclaim as he broke the existing javelin record of 232 feet, 9 inches, held by Forrest Miller of East Wenatchee, Washington, in five meets during the track season. His best throw of the year came in the City Meet when he hurled the javelin 244 feet, 11 inches. Terry was named to the All-State track team as the top field man in the state.

The Knights won the Bossier Invitational Track Meet, which was the first major track meet victory for WHS. Woodlawn finished second in the City Meet and placed third in the District Meet. It was represented in the State Meet at Natchitoches by four boys, Terry Bradshaw, Bill Ebarb, Randy Stephens, and Ross Oglesby. Bradshaw made one throw for 239-11½, good for first place, Woodlawn's initial victory in the meet. His throw broke the old mark of 231-1½ set by Delman McNabb of Lake Charles in 1963.

Competing in the 180 low hurdles, Oglesby finished second in the state with a 19.8 clocking. Sophomores Bill Ebarb and Randy Stephens finished third in the high jump with a six-foot leap and fifth in the triple jump by jumping 42 feet, 11 inches respectively.

There were eight new school records set by the 1966 track team, which was coached by A. L. Williams and Billy Joe Adcox. The Knights gave their best showing yet in the State Meet by scoring 14 points and finishing ninth. They finished second in the Woodlawn Invitational, which was won by the Byrd team for the fifth year.

Knights Win Bossier Invitational Meet

Before his event, Terry Bradshaw stops to tie his shoe. He set nine new meet records and finished first in all ten meets. Terry made only one throw in the state meet good for 239' $11\frac{1}{2}$ " to break the old mark of 231' $1\frac{1}{2}$ ".

Junior Tom Hagin breaks the tape to help the 440 relay take first place in the Bossier Invitational.

The 440 Relay Team of Tom Hagin, Russell Evans, Jimmy Buckner, and Ross Oglesby broke the school record with a time of 43.6 during the Woodlawn Invitational.

Jay Hartnoll, sophomore hurdler, leads his heat over the opening barrier of the race. Jay won his heat but failed to place among the top three in the race.

New Coach Brings Best Season To WHS

Mike Sanders stretches as he lays one up. Standing by are Russell Wilks (10) and Gary Alderman (54).

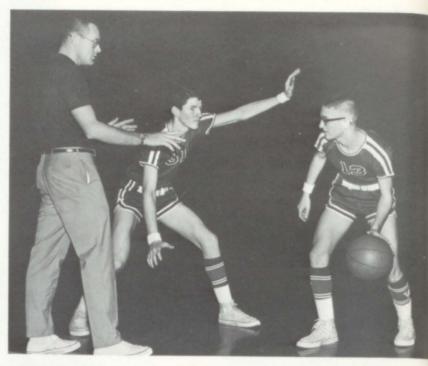

Coach Ken Ivy, in his initial season as head mentor, produced the finest team in the history of Woodlawn. Although they had only a 16-17 record, they broke numerous school records. Only three seniors were on this record-breaking team, and the Knights started many games with four juniors on the court.

The old record for the most points in one game, 88, was re-written as WHS trounced St. Mary's of Natchitoches 102-56 in the Tiger's homecoming. During that game, the Knights made 47 field goals eclipsing the old record of 36 made against West Monroe in 1965. Woodlawn erased three old season records. They bettered the existing record for most points in one season by scoring 1997 points. They set new records for most field goals, 749, and most free throws, 499, in one season.

The WHS hardwood team won more games than any other Woodlawn team and more than the last two seasons' combined wins. The Knights finished third in the Fair Park tournament. Junior guard Ricky Hayes averaged 17.3 points per outing and was named to the All-City team. Nine players along with two managers were named as lettermen in the roundball sport. Russell Wilks was the only boy to receive his second award.

ABOVE: Coach Ivy prepares his two leading scorers, Bob Turner and Ricky Hayes, for a game. Even though he suffered a broken hand during the season, Ricky averaged 17.25 points per game; Bob averaged 14.7. LEFT: Junior pivotman, Gary Alderman scores two more to increase the Knights' lead to three points over Fair Park's Indians.

Sophomores Have 28-9 Combined Record

Fourteen sophomores played on the Woodlawn B Team and the Sophomore Team. In the preliminary games to all varsity contests, the B Team posted a 20-6 record. Playing on Monday nights, the sophomores finished with an 8-3 record good for a first-place tie in the sophomore league. Both teams were coached by Ken Ivy.

The Knights' B Team put together a seven-game winning streak. They also won five straight, two other times. Three of their six losses were by only one point in each game. The Sophomore Team dropped two decisions to Airline, 51-50 and 44-43. Their only other loss was to Byrd in the opening round of the Fair Park Sophomore Tournament.

These sophomores, because of their excellent showing, gave visions of things to come for the Knights' future basketball seasons. Never before has one unit played so well together and won so many games at WHS.

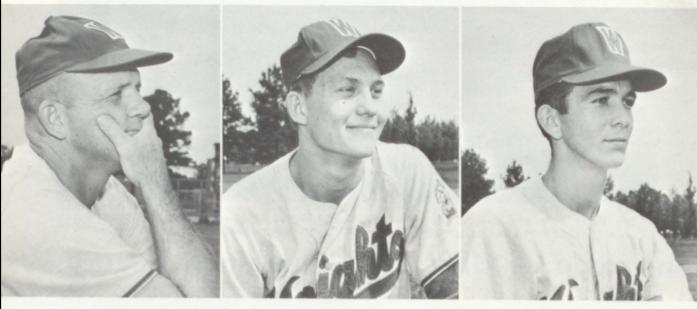

Leading scorer for the Sophomore Team was forward Mike McGovern; he scored 125 points in eleven games for a 11-point average. Six foot four center Elton Odom was next in scoring. He averaged nine points and seven rebounds per game. Guard Larry Davis had 78 points good for a seven-point mean.

WHS Compiles 14-8 Baseball Record

The 1966 edition of Woodlawn baseball finished with a 14-8 record on the strength of a strong start. Coached by Jerry Adams, the Knights won ten of their first twelve ball games, eight of these in a row. They also won seven straight home games out of nine during the season.

But when April came the Knights faultered. They won only four of ten games that month. In their last game, they defeated Fair Park to complete an 8-7 district record.

WHS placed two players on the All-District Team, pitcher Bobby Mothershed and outfielder Larry Turner. Larry, also named to the All-City Team, had a .300 batting average while Bobby had a 5-3 wonlost record. First baseman John Kerley was Woodlawn's leading hitter with a .347 average.

Baseball letters were awarded to 14 players along with two managers. Five lettermen returned for action in Woodlawn's 1967 season.

TOP: Managers Terry Tucker and Gary Childress were of vital importance to the team; Terry was the Knights' official scorer while Gary kept the equipment in top shape. BOTTOM: Outfielder James Turner connects against Byrd in a 2-1 loss to the Jackets.

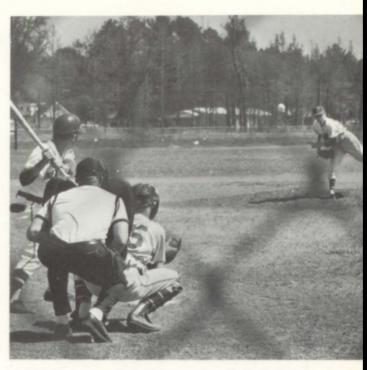

TOP: Dale Holland, sophomore catcher, hit safely twice in the Neville game and collected four RBI's. BOTTOM: Lefty Russell Wilks pitched in six games for WHS. In 32 innings he finished with a 2-2 record and 32 strikeouts. Wilks returned to pitch in Woodlawn's 1967 season.

Sixteen Awarded Baseball Letters

Second-year letterman Bruce Williamson is squared around to sacrifice during a district game with Byrd.

Third Golf Team Has Four Lettermen

Four lettermen led the Knights' 1966 golf team, and of these only two were seniors. The sport of golf is in its third year as a competitive game at Woodlawn. Golf was first introduced at WHS in 1964 when six boys played in matches against local schools. From a squad of six in 1964, the team has increased to thirteen golfers in 1966.

The Knights played their home matches, scheduled by Coach W. B. Calvert, at the Meadowlake Country Club. The four golfers awarded letters for their play were Bobby McGary, Sam Burleson, Bill Inzer, and John Inzer. Remaining squad members were Reid Miller, Ronald Carlson, Jim Prothro, Larry Erwin, David Creswell, Bobby Waddell, Roger Braniff, Keith Alexander, and Pat Holley.

'66 Season Rebuilding Year For Tennis

Posting a 2-6-1 record, the 1966 tennis team was in a rebuilding year. Ten juniors were on the team gaining valuable experience for the following season. Five seniors also played under the guidance of new head coach, Ken Ivy.

The team posted victories over Bossier and Airline and battled the Vikings to a tie on our home court.

Lettermen for the 1966 season were Larry Morace, John Gray, Doug Rimmer, Lonnie Shelton, Marty Nutt, Penny Clark, Cathy Duvall, Maye Morrow, Barbara Kase, Sammie Morris, and Elizabeth Peek.

Tennis, one of the four spring sports, takes much speed and agility. The players practice each afternoon during the entire year preparing for the season.

Eight Cheerleaders Spark Enthusiasm

For the first time in Woodlawn's history, the school had eight cheerleaders. These eight girls started practicing six hours each day in June and July. In August they went to SMU and received

"first place" in their division.

"The Twelfth Man" idea was introduced by them to Castlites during the Byrd pep rally. It is the hope of the cheerleaders that this will become a lasting tradition of the Knights. They also sponsored a homecoming door decoration contest. The doors were judged and a plaque was given to the first place winner, Mr. White's Room 309, with his name and room number engraved on it. The plaque will remain in the trophy case as there is space on it for this contest to continue for the next ten years.

Before each game the coaches and the players received individual good luck gifts from these eight pepsters, and the team received a telegram just before game time each week wishing them good luck—signed "The Twelfth Man." A key chain was also given to all the coaches at the first of the year, and after each game a key was added to the chain with the name of each defeated team on the key. After the Bogalusa game, they received a key with KNIGHTS engraved on it—the most important key of all.

Majors Cindy Foster (top) and Margaret Fory help to keep order in the pep squad.

Pep Squad Has Largest Membership Ever

Two hundred fifty mouths all open wide and yelling at one time really create a sensation to be seen and heard by all who attend Woodlawn's football and basketball games. This number is the largest membership the Lancerettes have ever had and is also the largest in the state. A two point grade average is required by members of this group.

Transportation to and from the football games was the theme of a half-time show performed by the pep squad at the Ouachita and Airline games. The girls presented a man, a car, and a bus as an example of this to thousands of excited Knight fans.

Being the largest yelling group that Woodlawn has ever had, the Lancerettes have encouraged more spirit than ever before. Faithfulness is one of the outstanding qualities of this group. They attend all football and most basketball games to cheer for the teams. Also, at the basketball games some of the girls sell refreshments to the avid Woodlawn followers.

Each year the Lancerettes have a lavish banquet at which they announce the new officers for the upcoming year.

After losing one of their sponsors, Miss Pat Bobbit, a new one, Miss Sandra Foster, came to the castle. She has been an asset to the pep squad and to Miss Joyce Jordan, the regular sponsor who has been with the group since the second year of Woodlawn's existence. Both Miss Jordan and Miss Foster have spent hours training this group and preparing them for numerous appearances.

Shreveporters saw them in several parades during the year. Anyone who has seen them will remember this giant body of girls dressed in uniforms of white and blue.

Flagbearers Cynthia Laun and Mary Anne Ramsey display the new banner which heralds the arrival of the Lancerettes.

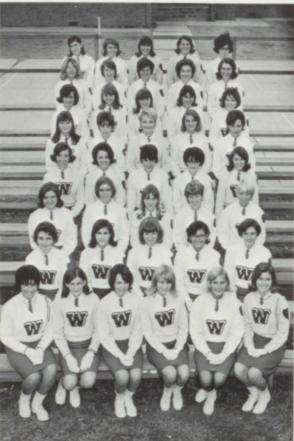

At the homecoming pep rally, Lt. Colonel Shirley Burnett presented Miss Joyce Jordan, sponsor of the pep squad, with a corsage from the Lancerettes.

A visitor to a Woodlawn pep rally would be impressed to see this massive group of uniformed girls. Cheering loudly and continually, they add spirit and sparkle.

Cheerleaders Decorate For Home Games

Eight o'clock pep rallies start game days off with much excitement, and chaos increases as time creeps.

Madge Moore concentrates on posting the battle signs on the stadium rail for the North Caddo game.

Lynell, Kyle, and Lorraine, cheerleaders, prepare streamers to don the goal posts in red and blue.

Roaring spectators, explosive pep squad, and lively band are combinations that cheer the Knights to victory.

TOP: Peggy McGraw and Kyle Casford decorate Wood-lawn's goal post for the Fair Park Game.

BELOW: Janice Matthews adds rhythm to cheers with her pom pons as the band plays.

Overconfident, a Yellow Jacket flies down through the surprised pep squad into the morning pep rally.

Several members of the pep squad sang of the spirit of the "twelfth man" on the Woodlawn team—the student body.

Head Cheerleader, Patty Hodge, who announces at pep rallies, predicts another Woodlawn victory.

Determined to win, the undefeated Knights smash through the victory hoop while the enthusiastic pep squad forms the spirit line for the first state play-off game against Bolton of Alexandria at Fair Ground Stadium.

Variety Of Sports Offered To Girls

Two new instructors, replacing two who left, joined the teaching staff of the girls' physical education department last September keeping the total of teachers at five. They lead in activities such as basketball, volleyball, golf, tennis, baseball, badminton, and recreational games. The favorite of the girls appears to be team sports. At the end of each six weeks they have a tournament in the activity they are playing at the time. If two classes are taking the same game, they play each other to determine the champions. These tournaments create much enthusiasm and excitement among the students.

A special treat for senior girls is tap dancing. They learn a few of the fundamental steps which help them to gain poise and coordination.

One of the students, Maye Morrow went to Northwestern to play in a state badminton tournament in which she placed second.

Mrs. Betty Hervey and two of her students explain the lungs' muscular reactions, before giving artificial respiration to Resusianne, a doll with contractable lungs.

Loud yelling and screaming can always be heard as the girls' PE classes play bombardment on rainy days.

Preparing to smash the birdie, Sherry Walker participates in a badminton tournament with Marty Ambrose. Badminton is a popular activity in the physical education curriculum for girls at Woodlawn.

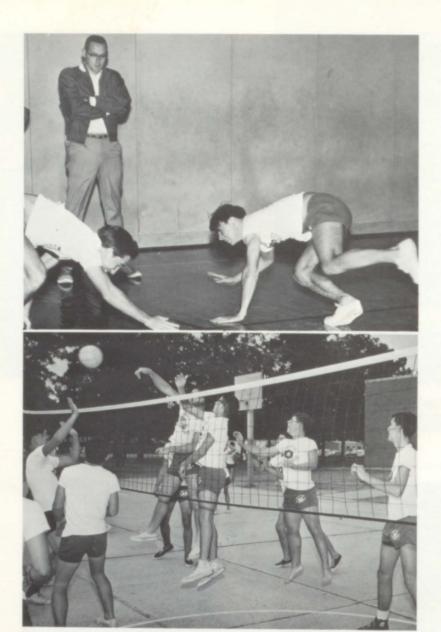

Long rows of girls stretch across the gym as two teachers combined their classes for exercising.

TOP: Coach Ivy watches intently as two 4th period students run an obstacle course drawn on the gym floor. This is their usual activity when they can't go outside on rainy days. BOTTOM: Weather permitting, the boys gym classes are ready for outdoor sports. Volleyball, a team sport, requires working together.

All are set, awaiting the snap of the ball as PE boys get a chance, one hour a day, to get away from their books and studies for a change of pace.

Football Is Favorite Activity In Boys' PE

Five coaches and two student coaches—for one semester—complete the staff of instructors for the boys' physical education department. The sports program includes supervised basketball, baseball, volleyball, gymnastics, calisthenics, weight lifting, and touch football, although football appears to be the most favored. They also study health and safety for six weeks.

Because of the large play area available, many classes can be held simultaneously. The gym can be partitioned into four playing areas and classrooms are also available.

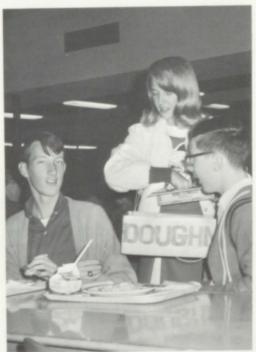

Education of a student would not be complete without training that contributes to his health and physical development. Thus the physical education program is designed to develop physical skill, emotional maturity, and to give emphasis to high moral values.

A five dollar rental fee is paid by each student providing him with his own locker and lock, weekly laundered uniform, and clean towels daily.

"CENTENARY, OF COURSE!!"

So says Becky Hollis, well-known Woodlawn alumnus ('66), who has "found a home" at Shreveport's own private liberal arts college.

She's one of the latest additions to many former Woodlawn students who have gone on to complete their education at Centenary College.

Don't you fail to explore the course offerings at Centenary before you make the decision that will affect the rest of your life.

Contact the admissions office (phone 861-2431, Extension 343) and talk to the admissions director about your future at Centenary.

IS BANKING FOR TEENAGERS?

What better way to show others you're growing up . . . than learning to handle your own money?

Our officers will tell you that more and more college and high school students are saving money regularly and keeping business-like records of their personal expenses and they've noticed that young people have a special liking for our Sav-o-Matic plan.

But the thing young people seem to like best is the warm-hearted reception they always get. The folks at Commercial are never too busy to explain the ins and outs of modern banking to our young customers.

If you're a teenager ...

... and want to start handling money like an adult ... get acquainted at the Commercial right away.

Zeagler, Donny (Sr) 195

Since you have successfully reached the end of the trail, you must have read the aerial map correctly at the front of the book and obeyed the road signs as you turned through the ACCOLADE. Now, the underclassmen exit to a fun-filled summer only to return in the fall for another round trip around the school. But the seniors exit from the roads of the Woodlawn campus and start traveling the highways of life.
